BROUWER BEGINNINGS

The First Three Generations of the Adam Brouwer Berchoven Family

By WILLIAM J. HOFFMAN, M. MECH. ENG., of La Plume, Penn.

Few early New Netherland families present as many problems to the investigator as does the Brouwer family. The original settler had no less than seven sons who continued the family name, with the result that the third generation was already quite numerous. As a matter of fact it was composed of more than sixty individuals with the surname Brouwer, whose births occurred between 1667 and 1712.

The entries of several baptisms cannot be found, for many of the older church records are incomplete or no longer available. The few Brouwer wills and deeds give valuable information, but the sponsors at the baptisms have been the chief means of identification of the various individuals and the placing of these in the family groups to which they apparently belong.

Much of what has been published before proved to be, in several instances, extremely unreliable. (See my Brouwer Correction I in Rec. 1938: 272 ff. and No. II in Rec. 1941: 332 ff.). One of the worst instances is the Brouwer data published in the New Harlem Register by Toler. Bergen in his Kings Co. Settlers devoted several pages to the Brouwers, also in Rec. 1878: 126, but as will be shown in the following pages, made quite a number of mistakes which unfortunately have since been followed by other authors. Manuscript notes in several collections proved to be full of errors. The Hill-Brouwer MS. in the collections of the N. Y. Gen. & Biog. Society has many of these. It was therefore necessary to conduct the search in the authentic records and build up from these.

I herewith present a study of the first three generations. In some special instances a fourth one has been added, or indications given where the data for the fourth generation may be found. In many cases the result has been that a thorough revision had to be made of what until now had been the accepted versions. I do not claim that my investigations have resulted in complete information about these first generations, nor do I claim to be right in every instance in the various assumptions which I have made. I therefore not only welcome but solicit additions as well as corrections, provided that these are based on cited authentic records.

1. ADAM BROUWER BERCHOVEN from Cologne, Germany, mar. N. Y. Dutch Ref. church, registering his intention on Mar. 19, 1645 (MDC:13). The marriage took place on March 21, for there is mentioned the wedding feast of Adam Brouwer's on that day (CDNY XIV:70). It was at this wedding party that Dominie Bogardus criticized Director Kieft. His bride was MAGDALENA JACOBS VERDON, a daughter of Jacob Verdon and Maria Thomasdr Badie (Rec. 1934:20; 1933:109 ff., with some minor corrections).

The name of this family was probably Berchoven, and Brouwer (brewer) possibly originally an occupational indication. The name Berchoven was used by Adam's children Nicholas, Rachel, Adam, Jr., and Anna at their marriages. Abraham used it in 1695 at the baptism of one of his children and Anna who married William Hilton is entered in the Albany baptismal records as "Anna Barko" (sic), an almost unrecognizable variation. But it thereafter disappeared from the records and the surname Brouwer, Brower, Brewer remained.

Adam Brouwer sailed in 1641 to Brazil in the ship Swol (Zwolle, a city in Overijssel, Netherlands) as a soldier in the service of the West India Company (Icon. 4:104). We also find at Brazil Jan Gerritsen Brouwer and his wife Annetje Laurens who also settled later in New Netherland (Rec. 1936:110; no ref. to Brazil there). There is no indication of any relationship. As a matter of fact the name Brouwer is very common in the Netherlands.

Adam Brouwer came in 1642 to New Netherland, for when he took the oath of allegiance in Sept. 1687, being then a resident of Breukelen, he made the statement that he had been in this country for 45 years. He settled first at New Amsterdam where he bought on Feb. 21, 1645, a house and garden lot from Hendrick Jansen, blacksmith (CDM:32). On the same day he had given a power-of-attorney to collect money due him from the West India Company (CDM:32), which he repeated on Sept. 21, 1646 (CDM:34). In consequence of Hendrick Jansen's refusal to deliver the deed to the property, Adam Brouwer commenced suit against him on May 2, 1645 (CDM:94). On Feb. 7, 1647, he received a patent for a lot on Manhattan (CDM:372), but he sold this again on Aug. 19, 1656, to Direk van Schelluyne. Shortly afterwards he removed to Brooklyn, for in 1657 "Adam Brouwer of Gowanus" was taxed f.6.—towards the support of the minister. His name and that of his wife are entered on the membership roll of the Dutch Reformed church of Brooklyn when the church was established on March 12, 1660. The entry reads as follows:

Adam Brouwer	and wife	Magdalena Verdon
	[To this was later added]
Under censure	By certificate to New York Aug. 29, 1667
	[this note was later crossed out]

He remained a resident of Breukelen until his death. His name appeared on the assessment lists of Breukelen of 1675, 1676 and 1683 as follows:

Assessment Rolls	Aug. 20, 1675	Sept. 1676	Sept. 26, 1683
Adam Brouwer	2 polls	1 poll	1 poll
at	2 cows	3 cows	1 mill
Breukelen	3 ditto of 3 yrs	4 sheep	3 cows
	3 sheep	1½ morgen of valley	1 ditto of 2 yrs.
	1 hog		2 ditto
	1½ morgen of valley		3 sheep
			3 morgen land

His widow's name is entered on the 1698 census of Kings County under Breukelen, namely as Magdalena Ferdon. The Adam Brouwer mentioned in the roll is the son. In a list of Estates of the Inhabitants of Newtowne, L. I., of 1678 there is listed: Adam Bruer, 1 head, 2 cows (CDNY: XIV: 739). It is possible that Adam Brouwer owned property there but I do not believe that he was an inhabitant. Adam, Jr., was only 16 years old at that time.

Together with Isaac de Forest, Adam Brouwer built and operated at Gowanus a flour mill on land patented on Jul. 8, 1645, to Jan Evertsen Bout (confirmatory patent Feb. 1667). They were as early as 1661 tenants of Bout, but the latter gave in 1667 "the corn and meadows and place whereon the mill is grounded" to the children of Adam Brouwer. This gift appears to have been given verbally and was probably considered void, for by a recital in the deeds of Oct. 10, 1700, and Apr. 30, 1707 (see below under Nicholas) of respectively Pieter Brouwer and Sybrandt Brouwer to Abraham and Nicholas Brouwer (Lib. 3—p. 201 Kings Co.) it appears that a conveyance had been executed by the heirs of Jan Evertsen Bout and Tunis Nuyse to Adam Brouwer, their ancestor, for the neck of land on which the mill was located. Theunis Nyssen, a farmer at Gowanus had sold Apr. 1, 1654, a piece of woodland at Gowanus. The mill, the old Gowanus mill, later more commonly known as Freeke's mill, was probably the oldest in the town of Breukelen. This property remained in the Brouwer family until 1798 when it was sold by Adolphus Brouwer to John C. Freeke (Lib. 7, p. 188, Kings Co.). Around the mill much of the fighting of the Battle of Long Island centered in 1776. The mill pond was formed by damming off the head of Gowanus Kill and the location of the mill was just north of Union, west of Nevin and between that street and Bond. The dwelling house which was burned down about 1852 was in Carroll, midway between Nevin Street and Third Avenue. Adam Brouwer became the sole owner, for he bought out de Forest's interest for 2,400 glds. payable in grain (i.e. wheat, rye, buckwheat and maize)—the wheat and rye at 4 glds., buckwheat and maize at 2 glds. per skpel. The remaining 400 glds. in wampum.

In May 1664, together with other inhabitants of Gowanus, Adam Brouwer petitioned the Governor and Council to have the canal between Red Hook Island and the mainland dredged, which petition was granted. His sons established a new mill in the same neighborhood, later known as Denton's mill, which will be mentioned in the biographical notice of Nicholas Brouwer.

Adam Brouwer, although a respectable citizen in good circumstances, seems to have been rather fractious and troublesome at times, if we may judge from some items recorded concerning him. In February 1667/8 he had been ordered under arrest for seditious speeches. His son Peter, then 23 years old, had been assaulted in Oct. 1669 and beaten by Gerrit Croesen and had appeared bloody at a friend's house. Peter told the constable that if "hee would not do him justice, hee would kill Gerrit." Caspar Videt declared during the hearing, upon oath, that he heard Adam Brouwer say, being come to the ferryman's house "that if he had beene with his son, he should not have come off alive, meaning Gerrit" (Rec. 1936:221/2). On Nov. 12, 1668 Adam was ordered that, to be allowed to keep his mill, he must "grind for all persons without distinction or exception according to custom, first come to be first served under penalty." This question came up again at a later date. He was also during some time at odds with the church. See note "under censure" added to the membership list. And finally in his will two sons and a daughter are cut off with one shilling for disobedience. The will of Adam Brouwer Berchoven is dated Jan. 22, 1691/2. He is of Bruckland. Wife Magdalena, to whom he leaves his entire estate. Sons Peter and Jacob and daughter Aeltje are cut off with a shilling for disobedience, but their children are to inherit their parents' share. Names his other children: Mathys, William, Adam, Abraham, Nicholaes, Mary, Fytie, Helena, Anna, Sarah and Rachel. Leaves legacies to: Adolphus the son of William, 3 pieces of eight; and 1 piece of eight each to Magdalena dau. of Matthys; Magdalena dau. of Peter; Vrouwtje dau. of Pieter; Magdalena dau. of Fytie; and Magdalena dau. of Mary. Ex. Barent van Tilburg and William Nazareth. Witn. Henry Sleght, Cornelis Siebring and John Fredericks. No cert. of proof.

On Aug. 12, 1698, Magdalena, widow of Adam Brouwer, conveyed to her sons Abraham and Nicholaes in consideration of and annual payment of 300 glds. 10 skippels of wheat, 2 of Indian corn and 2 loads of hay and the payments of her debts, her right in the dwelling house, mill houses and mill and creeks thereunto belonging (Records of Brooklyn). These two above named sons bought out their brothers and sisters on the same date as will be more fully told under the biographical notice of Nicholas Brouwer.

Children of Adam Brouwer and Magdalena Jacobsdr Verdon: (2-16 inc.)

2. PIETER² BROUWER, bapt. New York Dutch Ref. Sept. 23, 1646; sp. Mr. Paulus van der Beeck, Willem Bredenbent, Aeltje Braconye, Mary du Trieux (BDC:21). He married* PETRONELLA ULDRICKS CLEIN, dau. of Uldrick Clein (Cleen), j.m. uyt Hessen who had married New York Dutch Ref. Jul. 28, 1641 (MDC:10), Aefje Pieters, j.d. van Amsterdam. Uldrick Clein removed to Albany and Schenectady. See about him ERA I: 431; MA IV; CMA I: 79; CDM 19. He had a son Melchior bapt. New York Dutch Ref. Nov. 23, 1641 (BDC:14).

Pieter Brouwer took the oath of allegiance as of Breukelen Sept. 1687 as a "native." Pieter Brouwer is among the soldiers from King's County sent in 1690 to Albany (CMR 1896:404). He must have followed his sons who settled in New Jersey, for on Oct. 10, 1700, Peter Brouwer of East New Jersey conveys his share in his father's mill to Abraham and Nicholas Brouwer of Brooklyn:—"Whereas there is a corn mill in Brooklyn, called Gowanus Mill, bounded by land of Jacob Hansen, Hendrick Vechte, Volckert Bries, formerly in the tenure of Adam Brouwer deceased, true owner as by a conveyance from Tunis Nuysen, deceased and heirs of Jan Evertse Bout, deceased, etc. This indenture witnesseth that said Peter Brouwer is the eldest son of said Adam Brouwer, deceased, etc." Signs by mark. Witn. William Laurence, Anthony Karr; both sign by mark. Ackn. Oct. 21, 1700 bef. Col. Gerardus Beeckman Justice of the Peace. No date of Record. Conv. Kings Co. No. 2:268 (Rec. 1923:315).

Children of Pieter Brouwer and Petronella Uldricks Clein:

- i. (H)ULDRICK² BROUWER was probably born at Schenectady where his grandfather Uldrick Clein lived. For as y.m. from "Schoonegte" he married 1st at Hackensack Nov. 5, 1698 (Hack.:26), HESTER DE VOZ, y.d. b. New Haarlem, a dau. of Nicholas de Vaux (see Har.: 390). She died at Bergen May 19, 1710, and was buried May 21 (BgnD. 215). Uldrick Brouwer mar. 2nd. New York Dutch Ref. (int. Dec. 24, 1710) Jan. 19, 1711, with att. from Bergen (MDC: 114), Adriaentje Pieters, bp. at Bergen Apr. 6, 1685 (BgnB: 145), dau. of Pieter Hessels and Lysbeth Gerriits (Rec. 1925: 269). She was entered as a member of the Bergen church on Apr. 5, 1712 (Bgn.: 919).

Bergen Conv. Liber A: 204: Peter Demarest and Abraham Brouwer ex. of the estate of John Demarest convey property to Uldrick Brouwer, weaver of the Town of Bergen, Aug. 18, 1721. Bergen Conv. Liber B.: 313: Uldrick Brouwer of Moenache, Co. Bergen, with a number of others, buy property from Hessel Pieters of Acq., Sept. 10, 1734. Children of Uldrick Brouwer, probably 12 in all, either bapt. at Bergen or Schraalenburg, or are proved otherwise as children of his. Only of those whose baptisms were recorded can it be proven with certainty whether they were by Uldrick's first or second wife.*

- ii. ABRAHAM³ BROUWER (son of Pieter Brouwer²), "j.m. van Schoonegte" (Schenectady), married (int. Mar. 29) Hackensack 1700, Lea de Marest, j.d. van Hackensack. (Hack. 27). She was born 1682 and bapt. Bergen (BgnB.: 101) Apr. 18, 1682; sp. Gerrit Tyssen and Annetje Ackermans. She was the dau. of John de Marest and Jacomina Simonsdr de Ruine (Har.: 392). Lea was mentioned with her husband in the will of her father dated March 29, 1714 (Liber 4 p. 137 N. J. Wills). She married as "the widow of Abraham Brouwer" at Schraalenburg (int. May 15) 1731 (Schr.: 40), Roelof Westervelt. She was 50, he 73 years old.

Will of Abraham Brouwer of Hackensack, Bergen Co., weaver, dated Mar. 29, 1725. Wife Lea Brouwer executrix. Brothers-in-law James Christy and Pieter de Marest tutors and administrators of minor children. Oldest child Pieter has received his share ($\frac{1}{2}$ home lot on the east), son David to have the land on the west side of Little Mill, son Johannes residue of real estate which is easterly to the land of my son Petrus. Other sons: Samuel and Daniel. Daughters Lea, Rachel, Mary (youngest). Witn. Benjamin de Marest, Niklaes Bon, David de Marest. Will proved Apr. 19, 1736. N. J. Wills Lib. C p. 82. Apr. 19, 1736, Lea Brouwer alias Westervelt and Peter de Marest qualify as executors.

There are 10 children known of this couple. All were bapt. in the Hackensack Dutch Reformed Church. In the note below I have continued one line of descent from their son Samuel which leads to two well-known American artists. Heretofore nothing had been published regarding this line.

Note: Samuel⁴ Brouwer's Line

Abraham's third son was: Samuel⁴ Brouwer, bpt. Hackensack Feb. 18, 1705. He mar. as "born and liv. Schraalenburg" in the Dutch Ref. church at Schraalenburg (int. Nov. 9,) 1728, Maria Hartje, "born and liv. at Nyack" at her marriage. She was a dau. of Jacob Hartje and Tryntje

* There was also at Bergen one Jacob Breur (Breuer) apparently not related to the family under consideration. He was probably of German extraction, for he mar. as j.m. born in Bergen Nova Caesaria (another name for New Jersey) in the German Lutheran Church at N. Y., May 6-May 26, 1711. Lea Beekmans, j.d. born N. Y. He was a member of the Lutheran Church at N. Y. in 1719. A child Jacobus was bapt. at home May 27, 1720, sp. Samuel Beekman, Sr., Magdalena h.w. (entry Luth.: 40). Jacob Brouwer of Bergen signed on Jan. 14, 1714 the new charter (Taylor: History of Bergen, p. 61).

Stratemaker, born Mar. 21, 1710, bapt. at Tappan Apr. 12. Samuel Brouwer, wife and 6 ch., coming from New York, were refugees stopping at Fishkill Landing in 1776. This couple had 10 children, the first five were bapt. either at Tappan or Schraalenburg the last five at NYDR.

Of these children I will only mention the third son:

- iii. Jacob^s Brouwer, bp. Tappan May 23, 1736; sp. Harmen Koerten, Thryntie h.w. He mar. 1st, N. Y. Lic. Jul. 26-29, 1759 (MDC: 200), Margrita Vreeland. She died N. Y. June 28, 1773, "wife of Jacob son of Samuel" (Brouwer) (HSYB 1898, p. 150). He mar. 2nd, N. Y. Lic. Mar. 16, 1774, Catherine Gander. Her surname was really Jeandre. She was bapt. in the N. Y. French church on Apr. 3, 1757 (Hug. p. 240) and was a dau. of Nicola Jeandre and Marguerite Coquel (see under bapt. of Nicholas, below). Jacob was a carpenter at Warren Street, N. Y. (Nos. 37, 35, 55) until 1796. He can therefore be identified with Jacob Brouwer, Sr., who died N. Y. Oct. 17, 1796. This does not check with the statement in the family record to be quoted below and the date therein must be a mistake; the birthdate of John Henry Isaac is also incorrect. Anna Catharina Jeandre Brouwer mar. 2nd. — Harrington (see under 19-b).

The family record already alluded to tells us the following about Jacob Brouwer: "Jacob Brouwer, b. 5/2, 1736, m. 1st, 7/29, 1759, Margaret Sybrant Voebrandt or Vreelandt at Tappan, or Hackensack. Had some children by her but none married. Jacob was bapt. at Tappan. M. 2nd, Catherine Gendon. Jacob d. 1793 (see remark ante) buried Old Dutch Burying Ground on Garden Street, N. Y. Nearly all his children were christened in that church."

"Children of Jacob and Ann [her name was Anne Catherine]: Samuel H.; Nicholas; Abraham; Leah; Maria mar. Solomon Davis, had no issue but brought up several children not adopting them. Lived Athens. And John Henri Isaac, b. 55 Warren Street nr. Church or Chapel St., 11/18, 1792 (this date is wrong as will be shown below). Mar. 4/30, 1811, by Rev. E. Williams, a Baptist minister, to Eliza C. M. Derrick."

Children of Jacob Brouwer (1st marriage):

1. Jacob^s Brouwer, bp. NYDR Feb. 6, 1760; sp. Daniel Brouwer, Emmetje Vreeland j.d. (BDC: 241). Died N. Y. Aug. 19, 1760, "a child of Jacob son of Samuel Brouwer."
2. Samuel^s Brouwer, bp. NYDR May 3, 1761; sp. Samuel Brouwer, Marietje Hartje z.h. (BDC: 251).
3. Maritje^s Brouwer, bp. NYDR June 20, 1762; sp. Isaac Bos, Lea Brouwer z.h.v. (BDC: 258).
4. Abraham^s Brouwer, bp. NYDR Sept. 4, 1763; sp. Abraham Brouwer, Bregje Brouwer z.h.v. (BDC: 267).
5. Johannes^s Brouwer, bp. NYDR Oct. 14, 1764; sp. Johannes Steg, Tryntje van Deursen z.h.v. (BDC: 276).
6. Johannes^s Brouwer, bp. NYDR Jan. 29, 1766; sp. Joh.s Brouwer & Tryntje Verwey z.h.v. He lived at 50 Warren Street until 1798.
7. Abraham^s Brouwer, bo. Jan. 10, bp. German Reformed church, N. Y., Jan. 24, 1767, "son of Jacob Brauer & Margaretha his w. born Freeland"; sp. Abraham Freeland & Sara his w. born Taylor (A transcript of the German Ref. church of N. Y. records is at the N. Y. Historical Soc.).
8. Petrus^s Brouwer, bp. NYDR Apr. 2, 1769; sp. Cornelis van Houten, Sara de Marez z.h.v. (BDC: 309).

9. Margaret^a Brouwer, bp. NYDR Jul. 17, 1770; no sp. (BDC: 318).
10. Simion^a Brouwer, bp. NYDR Feb. 2, 1772; sp. Simion Vreeland, de moeder (BDC: 327).
11. David^a Brouwer, bp. NYDR June 18, 1773; sp. Deliverance Marteling, Maria Storm j.d.

According to the family record none of these children married. Several apparently died when still young, for the same names were used for the children of the second marriage.

Children of Jacob Brouwer (2nd marriage):

12. Samuel H.^a Brouwer (family record).
13. Nicholas^a Brouwer, bp. French church N. Y.: "Batême fils de sieur Jacob Brower et de Dame Cathérine Jeandur son épouse, né à Nouvelle York le sixième d'Aoust L'an de Grace mille sept sent septente et cinq, étant Batizé en l'Eglise françoise le Dimanche 20e d'Aoust de la même année (bo. Aug. 6, bp. Aug. 20, 1775) par Mr Abrah. m Keteltas minister du St. Evangile et étant présenté au St. Sacrement du Batême pr. le Sieur Nicolas Jeandur et Marguérite Coquel son Epouse ses Parian et Maraine" Signed; Jacob Brouwer, Abraham Keteltas VDM, Nicola Jeandre.

He mar. NYDR Dec. 25, 1794, Christina Weyman (variously called Critan, Lucretia and Christina in the bapt. entries of their children). She was born abt. 1775 and died June 16, 1869 Brooklyn, buried Greenwood Cem. Brooklyn June 19, aged 93-9-3. Nicholas Brouwer was a cooper by trade and resided at New York in 1805 at 124 Broad Street (Directory). He must have died bef. 1840 (his last mention is in 1825), for his widow Christina Brouwer lived then at 159 York St. Brkl. She later moved to 91 Gold Street.

14. Joseph^a Brouwer (ment. in family record).
15. Daniel^a Brouwer, bo. Dec. 24, 1784, bp. German Ref. church N. Y. Jan. 16, 1785, parents Jacob Brouwer and Anna Catherina, no sp.
16. Catharina^a Brouwer, bo. June 27, bp. German Ref. church N. Y. Aug. 5, 1787; parents Jacob S. Brauer & Anna Catharina; sp. Jacob Brauer, Helena Magdalena Meyer.
17. Leah^a Brouwer (family record).
18. Maria^a Brouwer, mar. Solomon Davis (family record).
19. John Henry Isaac^a Brouwere, born Nov. 18, 1790 at 55 Warren St. (and not in 1792 as mostly stated in his biographies), bp. German Ref. church N. Y. Jan. 11, 1791.; sp. John Henry Brinckman and Sally Burns. Student at Columbia University during 1811. Well-known sculptor, especially known for his death masks of famous persons. Died 1834. Mar. Apr. 30, 1811 by E. Williams, a Baptist minister. Elisabeth Catherine Matlock Derrick, bo. London, England, Jan. 28, 1790, died July 4, 1855.

Among their children:

- a. Alburtus De Orient Brouwere, painter, whose painting "Mrs. MacCormacks's Store" was during a summer show at the Metropolitan Museum, N. Y., and reproduced in Time and Life in 1940.
- b. Michael Angelo Buonarroti Leonardo da Vinci Brouwere who made when 10 yrs. old a charming portrait of his grandmother. The inscription reads: "Drawn by Angelo Buonarroti Browere for his dear grandmother Anna C. Harrington and presented to his beloved aunt Maria Davis, New York 10 Sept. 1833." He went to the State of Washington and had 4 children living there. (Information received from Mr. Everett L. Millard, Highland Park, Ill. in 1940).

[End of Note on Samuel⁴ Brouwer's Line]

- iii. MAGDALENA⁸ BROUWER (dau. of Pieter Brouwer 2), mar. as "j.d. from Brooklyn" at Hackensack (int. Oct. 23) 1697 (Hack.: 36), WILLIAM STEGGE, j.m. van New Barbados Neck, son of Thomas Stagg and Margaret. (Labaw; Preakness: 93, where their children have been enumerated).
- iv. VROUWTJE⁸ BROUWER (dau. of Pieter Brouwer 2), bp. Flatbush May 14, 1682; sp. Willem Brouwer, Elisabeth Brouwer (Fl. Fr. 32). Mar. Hackensack (int. Aug. 16) 1701, JAN HANSE JORALEMON. There was in 1659 one Jan Jeroleman in New Amsterdam. The family must have moved to Albany, for the brother of Jan Hanse, i.e. Jacobus Jansen Ralemon from N. Albany, married Hackensack (Bergen int. Nov. 22 1696; rec. cert. to Hackensack Dec. 12) 1696, Pietertje Claessen from Ahasymus. Both families settled at 2nd River or Belleville, N. J. The church records there start too late to contain the baptismal records of the children of Jan Hanse Joralemon and Vrouwtje Brouwer. However, there appear a number of individuals of the name since the beginning of the records, but it is not always possible to determine whether these are the children of Jan or of Jacob.
- v. JAN PIETERSE⁸ BROUWER (son of Pieter Brouwer 2), bp. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Mar. 21, 1685; sp. Theunis, Sara Brouwer (BDC: 166). Mar. as "born New Harlem and liv. in the Jurisdiction of Newark" at Hackensack (int. Apr. 10) 1708 (Hack. 32), ANTIE MANDEVILLE HENDRICKSDR, born Heemstee (Hemstead, L. I.) liv. Acq., dau. of Hendrick Mandeville and Annetje Scholl (Rec. 1907: 289). Hendrick Mandeville of Essex Co., N. J., mentions in his will dated 1709 his child Antie Brouwer (N. J. Wills, II: 321). The baptisms of 5 children of this couple were recorded in the Hackensack church. It would seem that there were additional children, for the first baptism to be recorded was of 1714 that is 6 yrs. after the marriage.*
- vi. CORNELIA⁸ BROUWER (dau. of Pieter Brouwer 2), bp. Brooklyn Mar. 13, 1692; sp. Cornelis Seebringh, Aeltje Fredericks (Brkl.: 164). She mar. at Albany as "Cornelia Pieters Brouwer" (int.

* This first child was Maritie Brouwer, bp. Hackensack June 3, 1714, sp. Jan Joralimans, Vrouwtje Brouwer (Hack.: 106). It was undoubtedly this dau. who as j.d. b. Scralenburg, liv. Barbary Neck, mar. at Hackensack Mar. 5, (int. Feb. 19) 1738 (Hack. 56). Pieter Herdevoy, y.m. born Ireland and liv. Acq. Bergen, in his Kings Co. Settlers, however, makes her a dau. of Pieter, but it would seem that she belongs to a later generation. There is also a question about the following child Petrus Brouwer bp. Hack. Mar. 10, 1717; sp. Pieter de Maree (Hack. 114). He mar. as y.m. from Hackensack at Acquackanonk on Jan. 10, 1745, Catherina van der Hoef (Oef, Hoeven). There appears a couple, Petrus Brouwer and Catharina van Woert, who had a son Petrus bp. at N. Y. Dutch Ref. Feb. 24, 1751. This is their only appearance on the records and I believe that van Woert should read van der Hoeven (the first sponsor is Teunis van Woert, possibly the reason for the error). Petrus Brouwer and Catharina van der Hoeven still appear together as sponsors on May 24, 1758 (BDC: 226).

Sept. 23) 1714 NICOLAES BOVY. Eight children of this couple were bapt. at Albany. Rykert and Betsie Hilton (Hiltén) appear as sponsors for their son Ryckert. These were children of William Hilton and Anna Berekhoven Brouwer (see under No. 15). Other sponsors were Petrus Brouwer and Jacob and Maria (Bovie) Brouwer (see vii below).

- vii. JACOB² BROUWER, at whose baptism the mother was called by her full name "Petronella Cleine," was bp. Brooklyn Nov. 15, 1694; sp. Jacobus Ferdon, Geertruid Jansen (Brkl. 192). Although some authorities identify him as the Jacob Brouwer who settled at the Raritan, the evidence indicates that he is the Jacob Brouwer who mar. at Albany, Apr. 6, 1717, MARYA BOVY. Not only had his sister (see above) married there Nicholas Bovy, but Jacob's first son was named Petrus and his second dau. Nelletje, the names of Jacob's father and mother. This couple had 11 children bp. at Albany. Another son: Nicholas whose bp. was not recorded has to be added to this number. Their descendants remained at Albany and some of these, in the later generations, settled at Schaghticoke.

- sup.viii. ANTJE³ BROUWER. The sponsors at the baptisms of her children prove without a doubt that she belongs to this family group of the Brouwer family. (These sponsors are: Petrus Brouwer, Johannes Brouwer and wife Jannetje Mandeviel, Petrus Brouwer and Petronella Montagne, Hendrick Brouwer; see Hack. baptisms and Doremus Genealogy). She mar. Hackensack, Nov. 13, 1726, WILLIAM ENNES (Lic. 46). The year of her marriage, however, makes it possible that she was a granddaughter and not a daughter of Pieter Brouwer 2; either a child of Uldrick or of Abraham Brouwer. I have tentatively placed her here as a dau. of Pieter. On the other hand, there is a record of Hannatie, daughter of Peter Brouwer who died Nov. 12, 1730 at New York (HSYB 1899), and although Antje and Hannatie are in many cases not identical, it is possible that it refers to the above. If this should be the case, Antje who married William Ennes could not have been a daughter of Pieter for William Ennes and Antje had children after 1730.

- sup. ix. ADRIAENTJE³ BROUWER, who married HENDRICK CLAESSEN is shown by some authorities to have been a daughter of Pieter. But proofs for this relationship have as yet not come to light.

3. MATTHYS² BROUWER, son of Adam Brouwer Berchoven and Magdalena Jacobs Verdon, bp. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. May 30, 1649; sp. Mathys Barentje Molenaers (BDC:26). He died before July 29, 1726, the date of marriage of his daughter Jannetje when he was stated to be deceased. Married Dutch Ref. church N. Y. (int. Jan. 26) 1673, MARIETJE PIETERS WYCKOFF (MDC:36). In this marriage entry she is erroneously indicated as Margrietje, but practically all other references give her name as Marietje (Wyckoff Genealogy; Som. Hist. Quarterl. 8:51). However, in some publications she is wrongly indicated as Margrietje Wyckoff. Matthys Brouwer is mentioned in the Assessment List of Breukelen, dated Sept. 26, 1683 with 1 poll, 1 cow and ditto of 3 yrs. He and his wife "Marritje Pieters from Manhattan Isl." are mentioned as church members at Gowanus (Fl. Fr.); to the entry was added "certificate given Nov. 30, 1680." They removed to Highland on the Hudson and joined the Tarrytown church as "from Cortlandt Manor" (Tar. Nos. 83, 84).

Children of Matthys Brouwer and Marietje Pieters Wyckoff:

- i. SAMUEL³ BROUWER, mar. MARIETJE SMITH. Her family name is indicated at the baptism of her son Matthys, bp. at N. Y. D. R. Apr. 3, 1695 (BDC: 225). He was, however, born on "the menaer van Cortlandt" as stated at his marriage. Samuel had settled there, for "Marietje Brouwer, wife of Samuel Brouwer from Cortlandt Manor," was a church member at Tarrytown (p. 88). Samuel Brouwer became a member of the same church on Aug. 21, 1717 (p. 123). In addition to Matthys, just mentioned, and bp. in N. Y., there were 8 children of this couple bp. at Tarrytown and two more sons, Hendrick and Willem, whose baptisms have not been found, also belong to this family group as is evident from the names of their children.
- ii. PETER³ BROUWER (son of Matthys Brouwer 3), bp. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Apr. 22, 1676 (BDC: 122).
- iii. MAGDALENA³ BROUWER, mentioned as "oldest daughter of Matthys Brouwer" in the will of her grandfather Adam Brouwer (see ante). She mar. in the Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Aug. 5, 1693 (MDC: 75), WILLEM HENDRICKS of Mespah Kills. They removed to Tarrytown where the bapt. of three of their children have been recorded.
- iv. HENDRICK³ BROUWER (son of Matthys Brouwer 3), bp. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Dec. 6, 1679 (BDC: 139). Bergen stated that he went to the Raritan and mar. Elizabeth. This must be an error for the Hendrick Brouwer of the Raritan had a son named Adam and it would seem that the father of this child was Hendrick the son of Adam Brouwer, Jr. (see under No. 9), for we have no record of a son Matthys.
- v. WILLEMJE (WILEMYNTJE)³ BROUWER (dau. of Matthys Brouwer 3), bp. Brooklyn Feb. 26, 1682; sp. Willem Brouwer, Eegtje (Agatha) Joris (Fl. Fr.: 30) d. inf. see No. x.
- vi. AELTJE³ BROUWER (dau. of Matthys Brouwer 3), bp. Midwout Sept. 28, 1684; sp. Aeltje Pieters, Adolph Brouwer, Junr. (Fl. Fr. 45) (see about this sponsor whose name must be an error, Rec. 1933: 123n and also under No. 13 of this article). She died New York, Jan. 30, 1756. Her marriage has been recorded in the Luth. church N. Y. After the banns had been read on Apr. 20, 21 and 22 "Holy Paschdays" or Easter Holidays, she married on Apr. 23, 1707 at the house of Mr. Johann Viet, JURGEN WOLL, a y.m. from Wiborg, Sweden. (See further particulars Rec. 1941 p. 295 ff.; also Olde Ulster, VI: 365.)
- vii. JOHANNES³ BROUWER (son of Matthys Brouwer 3), mar. MARRITIE LAMB (LAM). Five children of this couple are known. The oldest two were bp. in N. Y. D. R., the following three at Tarrytown. The oldest son was named Matthys and the second daughter Marietje, which is evidence that Johannes was a son of Matthys. Marritie Lamb was undoubtedly a dau. of Alexander Lamb of New York.
- viii. MARITJE³ BROUWER (daughter of Matthys Brouwer 3), bp. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Nov. 21, 1686; sp. Barent Janse, Maritie Brouwer (BDC: 176). She mar. JOHANNES BUYS, bo. Bergen Apr. 2, 1689, son of Arien Pietersz Buys and Tryntie Hendricks Oosteroom (Rec. 1909: 191/2). This couple lived at Poughkeepsie where three of their children were bp.; another one was bp. in the Lutheran church at N. Y. and still another one at Fishkill.*

- ix. ANNETJE³ BROUWER (dau. of Matthys Brouwer 3), bapt. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Oct. 20, 1689; sp. Willem Nazareth, Helena Brouwer (BDC: 193). She mar. as "j.d. vant Hooglant" (Highland on the Hudson) in the Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Aug. 12, 1715 (MDC: 124), THOMAS COUSYN. They acted as sponsors in 1719 (BDC: 412) and have two children bapt. in the N. Y. Dutch Ref. church.
- x. WILLEMTJE (WILLEMYNTJE)³ BROUWER (dau. of Matthys Brouwer 3), bp. Brooklyn May 14, 1693 (p. 165); sp. Nicolaes Brouwer, Rachel Brouwer. She mar. as "j.d. uit 't Hooglant," Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Nov. 24-Dec. 9, 1711 (MDC: 116), JAN THOMASSE VOS van Denemarken (Denmark). They had seven children bp. in NYDE.
- xi. JANNETJE³ BROUWER (dau. of Matthys Brouwer 3), mar. N. Y. Lutheran church Jul. 29, 1726, JAN PELL, born at Stockholm, son of Hans Pell. She is indicated at her mar. as "Jannetje Brouwer liv. N. Y. [where the groom also lived], dau. of Matthias Brouwer deceased of N. Y." (HSYB 1903: 14). He and his wife stood sponsor for one of the children of Jan Thomasse Vos and Willemtje Brouwer (see under x above) and he is there mentioned as Jan Copel, a mistake in the entry. The name Copel, Copal, a nickname "buy-all," was given to John Archer, the progenitor of the Westchester County, Archer family.

4. WILLEM² BROUWER, son of Adam Brouwer Berchoven and Magdalena Jacobs Verdon, bp. (as Wilhelmus) Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Mar. 5, 1651; sp. Willem Beeckman, Johannes Marcus, Maria "int houte paert" ("the wooden horse," the name of a tavern), Lysbeth Algiers and Rachel van Tienhoven. Several authorities credit him with a first wife Aeltje, but no record has been found to substantiate such a claim.† His first wife was ELISABETH SIMPSON, whom he must have married prior to Sept. 14, 1679 when his dau. Magdalena was baptized. His second wife, whom he married prior to 1702, was MARTHE BOULTON. Her family name, as far as I know, has not been mentioned by any authority but is evident from the baptismal entry of her dau. Susanne in the French church at N. Y. It would seem that she was of French or Walloon origin. Willem Brouwer and his wife were listed among the members of the Breukelen church, but they removed at a later date as follows from a note added to the membership entry. He was listed in the Kings County Census of 1698 with a family of 1 male, 1

* There was one Elisabeth Brouwer who mar. at Fishkill Aug. 3, 1738, Simon Buys. I have not been able to place her definitely. It would seem that her marriage date is too late for her to be also a dau. of Matthys Brouwer. She may be Elisabeth a daughter of Johannes mentioned under 2 above. Two children of Simon Buys and Elisabeth were bapt. at Fishkill: Elisabeth and Johannes respectively in 1741 and 1743.

† Willem Brouwer has also been credited with a wife Angenietje. This is based on the fact that Willem Brouwer and wife Angenietje appear as sponsors at a baptism in the Brooklyn church on Jan. 15, 1699 (Brkl.: 175). This is the only instance in which she appears and is probably a mistake. However, we have no records of any children bp. between 1687 by Elisabeth and 1702 by Marta, so that he could have married Angenietje between these years.

female and 2 children as a resident of Breukelen. In 1704 and 1709 he was mentioned as a constable of Brookland (Breukelen). A Brkl. deed dated 5-7-1708 mentioned Willem Brouwer and Martha h.w. of Brookland.

Children of Willem Brouwer and his 1st wife Elisabeth Simpson:

- i. MAGDALENA^a BROUWER, bp. Brooklyn Sept. 14, 1679; sp. Aeltje Brouwer, Josias Strakken (Brkl. p. 152; Fl. Fr.: 11). The mother's name is given as Betje (Elizabeth). Several authorities mention Joost Vredenburg as her husband. However, the latter's wife was a dau. of Nicolaes Brouwer. Their marriage took place in 1725 when Magdalena the dau. of Willem would have been 35 years old. Joost Vredenburg and his wife had a son Nicolaes and a dau. Jannetje which proves conclusively that Nicolaes Brouwer and Jannetje Colyer were the parents of Joost Vredenburg's wife (see below under No. 13).
- ii. LYSBETH^a BROUWER (dau. of Willem Brouwer 4). Her year of birth has been given as 1681 but cannot be verified. She is often shown as the wife of Jan Parcell; but here again the wife of Jan Parcell is a dau. of Nicolaes Brouwer (see under No. 13 below). It would seem that Lysbeth married HARMEN GERRITS, for there was no other Elizabeth Brouwer of the right age to have married prior to 1704. For in that year they had a son Gerrit bp. in NYDR (BDC: 299) for whom Abraham Brouwer and Jannetje Brouwer acted as sponsors.
- iii. ADOLPHUS^a BROUWER (son of Willem Brouwer 4), bp. Brooklyn Aug. 10, 1684; sp. Cornelis Seubering, Yda Seubering (Brkl. p. 157; Fl. Fr.: 44). He is shown by several authorities to have married Jannetje Verdon. This is in error. Adolphus Brouwer who mar. Jannetje Verdon was a son of Nicolaes Brouwer 13, which will be proved under that heading (see also Rec. 1938: Jan. issue).
- iv. JOHANNES^a BROUWER (son of William Brouwer 4), bp. Brkl. Sept. 18, 1687; sp. Barent Jansen, Maritje Corse (Brkl. p. 160). It is he probably who mar. AAGJE (EGGE, AEGYE) for the witness to his will was Samuel Brouwer vii below. Johannes removed to the Raritan. Oct. 29, 1732, will of John Bruer (Brouwer) of Somerset Co., farmer. Children: John oldest, Direk second, Antie and "last and youngest son." Executors: Johannes Colyer of Long Island, Kings Co., and Tunis Post and Hendrick Bris, both of Somerset Co. Witnesses Willem Post, Samuel Bruer, Cornelia Willemje. Proved Nov. 30, 1732-Nov. 13, Inv. £107-6-7- Lib. B. p. 328. Of the four children mentioned in the will, the oldest one was bp. in 1726 at Flatlands, Direk the second one in the Raritan church in 1730, the two remaining are known only from the will.
- v. CATHARINA^a BROUWER, bo. 1690, mentioned by several authorities as a dau. of Willem Brouwer 4, but no proof has been found.

Children of William Brouwer and his 2nd wife Martha Boulten:

- vi. JANNETJE^a BROUWER, bp. Brooklyn Jan. 8, 1702; sp. Steven Beduen, Maria h.w. (Brkl. p. 179). The mother's name is given as Marta.
- vii. SAMUEL^a BROUWER (son of Willem Brouwer 4), bp. Brooklyn Aug. 25, 1706; sp. Jacob Swaan, Susanna Bourdet (Brkl. p. 183).

- According to Our Home, removed to N. J. and mar. MARGRITA. A child of theirs was bp. in the Raritan church in 1733 (p. 217).
- viii. MARIA³ BROUWER (dau. of Willem Brouwer 4), bp. Brooklyn May 1, 1708; sp. Barent van Tilburg, Annetje Brouwer (Brkl. p. 185).
 - ix. SUSANNE³ BROUWER (dau. of Willem Brouwer 4), born Mar. 25, bp. French church, N. Y., Apr. 20, 1712: parents Guillaume Brower, Marthe Boulten; sp. Simon Soumaine, Susanne Bourdet.

5. MARIA² BROUWER, dau. of Adam Brouwer Berekhoven and Magdalena Jacobs Verdon, bp. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. June 4, 1653 (BDC:34). She married as "from Gowanus" in the same church, Sept. 3-Sept. 20, 1676, JACOB PIETERSEN, from Lübeck, Germany. His surname was Verhulst acc. to Kco.: 369. She mar. 2nd, Dutch Ref. church N. Y., Sept. 19-Oct. 13, 1686 (MDC: 61), BARENT JANSZ (VAN TILBURG) from Midwout, son of Jan Theunissen "van Tilburg" (a town in the Netherlands) and Tryntje Pieters Cronenburgh (Riker's Harlem, p. 244; Rec. 1930: 254).

Children, 1st marriage (there were no children by 2nd husband):

- i. MAGDALENA³ JACOBS, bp. Brooklyn 1681 (Fl. Fr.: 24); sp. Hieronymus Rapaille, Magdalena Adams Brouwer.
- ii. JACOB JACOBSZ, bp. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Sept. 18, 1678 (BDC: 134).
- iii. HENRICUS JACOBSZ, bp. Dutch Ref. church N. Y. Jan. 23, 1684 (BDC: 161).

HUMPHREY DAVIE, MERCHANT, OF BOSTON

By ROBERT H. MONTGOMERY, A.B., LL.B., of Cambridge, Mass.

On July 1, 1662, Mr. Rutherford wrote to Mr. Davenport from Boston that "here is come with Woodgreene one Mr. Davie, a rich merchant, and brought his family and a great deal of goods."

This rich merchant was Humphrey Davie, a zealous Puritan, elsewhere described as a godly man of a £30,000 estate, who had been a merchant in London and who became a prominent man in Boston, remaining here until the "old government" was displaced, when he removed to Hartford. He was accompanied to Boston by James Allen, later colleague-pastor with Davenport of the First Church, who had been ejected from his living on the Restoration of Charles II. The date of Allen's arrival has been given as June 10, 1662.

Humphrey's son, Sir John Davie, a graduate of Harvard in 1681, a patentee of New London, Ct., and first clerk of the town of Groton, Ct., returned to England in 1707 with his family, succeeding to the title as fifth baronet and to the estates at Creedy in the parish of Sandford, Devonshire, where his descendants (Ferguson-Davie) now live.

Other members of the family remained in America and there are many descendants in female branches. The following is a compilation of genealogical information relating to the first two or three generations in America, which it is hoped will correct the confused and contradictory accounts of the family that have appeared in many printed works.

Humphrey Davie, fourth and youngest son of Sir John Davie, First Baronet (created 1641) and his first wife Juliana Strode, was baptized according to Burke on August 24, 1625. His mother died May 14, 1627. His father remarried and lived until 1655. His stepmother died in 1657.

For the Davie pedigree there are abundant materials in Waters' Genealogical Gleanings in England, pages 837 et seq., and the noble and royal lineage of Juliana Strode, daughter of Sir William Strode of Newnham, Devon, can readily be traced through conventional sources. Her brother, William Strode (1599-1645), spent eleven years in the Tower and was one of the Five Members impeached by Charles I in 1642.

Humphrey Davie married while in England, Mary White, daughter of Edmund White, citizen and haberdasher of London, a man of wealth with extensive investments in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, and his wife, Elizabeth Wilson, daughter of Rowland Wilson. The wills of the Wilson and White families, abstracted by Waters, and articles in the Dictionary of National Biography show the connection of Mary White with many London worthies, Puritan and other, including Cromwell, Hampden, Col. Owen Rowe, and Edward Whaley, the regicides, the two Rowland Wilsons, Bulstrode Whitelocke, Keeper of the Great Seal, Dr. Tobias Crispe, and Rev. William Hooke.

Mary White's brother, Edmund White, was a member of the Corporation for the Propagation of the Gospel in New England (the oldest Protestant foreign missionary society) from 1668 on, and beginning in 1670 remittances by the Society to New England were made by his draft directed to Humphrey Davie, payable to John Leverett and Hezekiah Usher. The marriage of Humphrey Davie and Mary White was before May 25, 1655, when she was mentioned in a record as Mary Davy. Mary (White) Davie came to Boston with her husband and it may be inferred lived until at least 1674, because she is mentioned in the will of her father, made November 26, 1674, and there is record of a child born to Humphrey and Mary in 1673. Sewall, Diary, Vol. II, Preface, p. 13, has an item for December 29, 1681, which may solve the problem of the date of her death: "Two of the chief Gentlewomen in town died next Friday night, viz. Mrs. Mary Davis and Mrs. Eliza. Sargent."

On December 14, 1683, Humphrey Davie entered into a marriage agreement with Sarah Richards, widow of James Richards, late of Hartford, Conn., performance of which was secured by a mortgage. She was the daughter of William and Ursula Gibbon of Hartford. William Gibbon was Mr. (afterwards Governor) Wyllys' steward in England and came to Hartford in 1636 where he became an original proprietor. His daughter Sarah, born August 17, 1645, married (1) Hon. James Richards of Hartford, by whom she had (among others) a son, Thomas, and four daughters, of whom Sarah married Capt. Benjamin Davis of Boston; Mary, Mr. Benjamin Alford of Boston; Jerusha, Governor Gurdon Saltonstall; and Elizabeth, Sir John Davie, the fifth baronet, above named; (2) Humphrey Davie, and (3) May 30, 1706, Col. Jonathan Tyng of Dunstable and Woburn, Mass. She died February 8, 1714.

During his life in Boston, Humphrey Davie was active as a merchant, was interested in the Powder Mill at Neponset, represented his father-in-law and other Englishmen as agent, lent money on mortgages for himself or others, and was frequently a fiduciary under trusts and wills, including those of Bridget Hoare, Wealthean Richards, the second John Winthrop, John Oxenbridge, and Governor Bellingham. He was admitted as a freeman May 3, 1665, acted on committees for Boston, represented Billerica as a deputy to the General Court from 1666 to 1669 (receiving a fat ox for his services) and Woburn from 1670 to 1679, inclusive. In 1679 he was elected an Assistant (ex officio Overseer of Harvard College) and was re-elected each year to and including 1686 (the last election under the Colony charter.) He had been a member of the Artillery Company in London and joined the Ancient and Honorable in 1665. In 1675 he was appointed Captain of a militia company in Boston but no record of actual military service has been found.

A year or two before his death he removed to Hartford, where he died February 18, 1688-9. On November 2, 1687, he was appointed a Justice of the Peace and of the Quorum for the County of Hartford, and was a justice of the first Court of Sessions under the Andros government.

Humphrey Davie's "mansion house" in Boston stood on the site afterwards occupied by Andrew Faneuil near the corner of the present Tremont and Beacon Streets on the westerly side of Tremont Street and opposite the Old Burying Ground now next to King's Chapel. An orchard on Beacon Hill believed by "the Gleaner" to have been planted by Blackstone was long known as Humphrey Davie's Orchard, and the lane leading to it through the grounds of the present State House as Davie's Lane.

On this was a small dwelling house. His warehouse and wharf were near the little foot bridge by Peter Oliver's dock near the present Kilby Street. These three properties were included in the mortgage given to secure the marriage agreement, which was foreclosed. The mansion house became the property of Andrew Faneuil; the orchard, of James Allen; and the warehouse, of Sarah Davie's son-in-law, Benjamin Alford. He appears also to have owned a small orchard at Rumney Marsh (Chelsea) and land to Eastward which may have included Swan Island in the Kennebec, to which he had an Indian deed in 1667.

Portraits of Humphrey and his wife were mentioned in the will of his son, Sir John, made April 25, 1727, but I have been told they cannot now be identified and may have been destroyed in the fire that burned Creedy Park down in 1915.

By his first wife, Mary White, Humphrey Davie had :

(1) Edmund Davie. Him I include on the basis of probabilities. There was an Edmund Davie who graduated at Harvard in 1674. The dates are consistent. The name Edmund was that of his maternal grandfather and of an uncle. Sir William Ferguson-Davie of Creedy Park wrote me in 1925 that Humphrey Davie had a son Edmund, from which I deduced a family record or tradition. There is an account of Edmund in Sibley's "Harvard Graduates," where the possibility that he took an M.D. degree at Padua is mentioned. It is almost certain that he died before 1700.

(2) Sir John Davie, above-named.

(3) Elizabeth Davie. Of her, below, under caption "Taylor."

(4) Anna Davie. She died in Boston, September 12, 1662. (Boston Records).

(5) Rowland Davie, born in Boston, March 23, 1664; died June 17, 1664. (Idem.)

(6) Ann Davie, baptized First Church, 30 day, 2 mo. 1665. (Idem.) No further mention.

(7) Margaret Davie. Of her, below, under caption "Franklin."

(8) Mary Davie, born Nov. 4, 1671, baptized First Church, 5 day 9 mo. 1671. (Idem.) No further record.

(9) Humphrey Davie, born June 10, 1673, baptized 22 day 4 mo. 1673, First Church. (Idem.) No further record.

Children of Humphrey Davie and Sarah (Gibbons) (Richards) Davie:

(10) Humphrey Davie, the Brazier. Of him, below.

(11) William Davie, born June 27, 1686. (Boston Records.) Amos Ward of Boston was appointed administrator of William Davie, late of said Boston, deceased, merchant, July 20, 1731. The inventory is headed, "Capt. William Davie." No record of marriage. He attended a school kept by Peter Burr from 1696 to 1698 and entered Harvard in the class of 1705 but did not graduate. (Sibley, op. cit.) He joined with his brother Humphrey, the Brazier, in the deed of the stone dwelling house on Tremont Street to Andrew Faneuil, Jan. 10, 1710. Captain William Davie was appointed administrator of the estate of Sarah Tyng, wife of Col. Jonathan Tyng of Woburn, by a decree entered in Cambridge, Middlesex County, Nov. 10, 1718, in which there is a puzzling recital by which William is described as "her oldest son by" Humphrey Davie. Humphrey Davie, the Brazier, is always so far as I have found, mentioned first in deeds of the family and by inference this gives him priority of birth. Humphrey, the Brazier, may have been dead by Nov. 10, 1718 (administration on his estate was granted Dec. 29, 1718) which would have left Capt. William as the sole surviving son of Humphrey and Sarah and therefore in one sense "her oldest son." According to Whitman a James Davie joined the Ancient & Honorable Artillery Company in 1708 and Roberts conjectures that this was probably a son of Capt. Humphrey Davie. I find no record of a James in the Davie family and wonder if this James is not really William.

Taylor

Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Humphrey and Mary (White) Davie, was probably born in England. Her marriage to Daniel Taylor is inferred from the following:

The will of Susanna Oxenbridge of Boston which is dated June 6, 1695, contains among others, gifts to Mrs. Sarah Davie of Hartford, Mrs. Jerusha Saltonstall and Mrs. Elizabeth Davie, and Mr. John Davie, and the following: "To Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Mr. Humphrey Davie, my gold seal, a silver fork and a ring." Suffolk Probate, Book II, Page 145; for convenient reference see an abstract in Waters, op. cit., p. 422.

Miss Caulkins in her New London, p. 416, has a note which is consistent with the deed referred to therein. This note reads as follows: "The consideration, £500, [for a sale of property] Sir John Davie empowered his attorney, Gurdon Saltonstall, to pay over in the following manner; to wit, to Mrs. Margaret Franklin of Boston, £250; to Mr. Daniel Taylor, minister of the gospel at Newark, Mrs. Mary Pratt, and Mrs. Mather of Saybrook, each £83, 6s. 8d. These were probably his nearest relatives in America, and to them he relinquished his estate on this side of the ocean." New London Land Records, Vol. 8, p. 155.

As will appear below, Margaret Franklin was unquestionably the daughter of Humphrey Davie and the sister of Sir John Davie.

Horace E. Mather in his Lineage of Rev. Richard Mather, Hartford, 1890, p. 103, mentions that Martha Taylor who married Rev. Azariah Mather was a granddaughter of Sir John Davie, a baronet in England, who came to this country and returned to England. This is inaccurate in detail but is nevertheless some evidence of a tradition of Davie blood.

On Dec. 1, 1682, an indenture acknowledged before Humphrey Davie, Assistant, was witnessed by Daniel Taylor and Elizabeth Davie (Suffolk Deeds, Book 12, Page 314), from which it may be inferred that Daniel Taylor was in Boston on that day and was known to Elizabeth and her father.

There seems to be no question of the marriage. The date is uncertain but it is presumably after Dec. 1, 1682, the date of the above indenture when Elizabeth used her maiden name, but probably not long after because Mary Taylor, their daughter (perhaps the oldest child), was married Sept. 7, 1704.

Of Daniel Taylor's birth and parentage I find no record. I have a feeling that he may have been related to the Taylor family of London, one of whose members, also a Daniel Taylor, was a step-brother of Edward Rawson, secretary of the Colony of Massachusetts, but no satisfactory proof has been found by me.

A Daniel Taylor was a new member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston in 1682-3 (Roberts, op. cit., p. 286.) This I suppose was our Daniel Taylor, who testified on Sept. 22, 1696 that he was then aged 45, which would have made him about 35 in 1682. Daniel was in New London in 1689 when John Liveen named him as a legatee in his will but he was a resident of Saybrook at least as early as that year. He became a Justice of the Peace of New London County in May, 1698, and served as such until 1716 at least, being "of the Quorum" in 1705 and 1706. In May 1714 he was appointed "naval officer" at Saybrook.

From the foregoing and from the genealogical works cited below, I make the following inferences as to the children of Daniel Taylor and Elizabeth (Davie) Taylor:

(1) Mary Taylor on Sept. 7, 1704, married Isaac Pratt, son of John Pratt (Smith) who was born Jan. 16, 1677. They had six children, five at least born at Saybrook. Saybrook Records; F. W. Chapman, The Pratt Family, Hartford, 1864, which lists the children at page 71 and other descendants in succeeding pages.

(2) Martha Taylor married Rev. Azariah Mather of Saybrook, Conn., Dec. 5, 1710. (Saybrook Records.) The latter was born August 29, 1685 at Windsor, Conn., and died Feb. 11, 1736, aged 51. Sketch in The First Church of Christ (Cong.) Old Saybrooke, Conn., Middletown, 1896, p. 29. Horace E. Mather, op. cit., lists the children born of this marriage and other descendants.

(3) Rev. Daniel Taylor, born about 1690 and died Jan. 8, 1747-48 "aged 57." He was an early graduate of Yale and the pioneer minister of Orange, N. J. In his will he mentions his wife Elizabeth, children Daniel, Jemima, Mary, Elizabeth, Davie, Joseph and Job. (New Jersey Archives, 30: 472; History of Essex and Hudson Counties, 2: 763.) It is said that his descendants are numerous in New Jersey. (See Dexter's Yale Biographies and Annals 1701-1745, page 67.)

The above order of birth of Mary, Martha and Daniel is based on inference from the facts stated above and nothing else.

Franklin

Margaret Davie was born Feb. 19, 1666. (Boston Records.) Margaret Davee and Henry Franklin were married by Mr. Sam Miles Dec. 22, 1702. (Idem.)

This was the second marriage of Henry Franklin. His first wife was Sarah Johnson, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Maverick) Johnson, born Aug. 2, 1665, by whom he had several children,—Henry, b. June 24, 1692; Sarah, b. May 15, 1694; John, b. Feb. 26, 1695, and Lettice, b. Nov. 6, 1701. He was not of the family of Dr. Franklin and I have been unable to discover whose son he was. He is described as a vintner and in his administration, as a gentleman. He died in 1713 and administration was granted to Margaret Franklin, widow, and Henry Franklin, merchant, son. Sureties on their bond were Humphrey Davie, brazier, and Benjamin Alford, merchant.

In Boston Records we find the following children of Henry Franklin and Margaret, his wife:

Margaret,	June 19, 1704
Mary,	Feb. 20, 1705
William,	Sept. 15, 1708
Robert,	Jan. 21, 1710

On July 13, 1725, Margaret Franklin's step-son, Henry Franklin, merchant, died of a fever.

His widow, Hannah Franklin, and his brother and next of kin, John Franklin of Boston, merchant, renounced administration and appointed Andrew Faneuil of Boston, merchant, administrator. The widow, b. Sept. 4, 1699, was the daughter of Thomas Cooper of Boston and Mehitable, daughter of James and Hannah (Stoughton) Minot (a cousin of Lieut. Gov. Tailer). She afterwards married, Nov. 5, 1729, Capt. Bartholomew Cheever, and died without issue July 13, 1732. The order of distribution dated Jan. 16, 1736 recites that one moiety of the estate belonged to Hannah Cheever, late wife, and the other moiety to the deceased brothers and sisters, namely, John Franklin, Sarah Tayler, William Franklin, Margaret and Mary Franklin. A second order of distribution dated Sept. 23, 1738 names as the brothers and sisters, John Franklin, Sarah Tailer, William Franklin, Margaret Hill and Mary Holmes, but it is not clear that they were then alive and some of them doubtless were deceased and the distribution made to their legal representatives. When the final order of distribution dated Nov. 1, 1755, was entered, one moiety went to the "said Intestate's Brothers and Sisters John Franklin, dec'd, William Franklin, dec'd, Sarah Leddell, Margaret Hill & Mary Holmes, dec'd, or their legal representatives."

Our interest in Henry Franklin's own brother, John, and his own sisters Sarah and Lettice, is indirect but in passing it may be noted that Lettice was probably dead by 1725, when Henry died, that John died in South Carolina before 1755, and that Sarah m. (1) Sept. 29, 1714, Thomas Tayler, and (2) John Leddell, and was apparently still alive in 1755. See the will of John Leddell, schoolmaster, dated May 13, 1752, Suffolk Probate.

Of Henry's half-sisters and brothers, the children of Margaret Davie Franklin, we deduce that Robert died before 1725.

Margaret, b. June 19, 1704, is described as a spinster in her bond to refund dated March 26, 1731. (Peter Faneuil & John Foye, merchants, sureties.) James Hill & Margaret Franklin were married by Rev. Roger Price, Nov. 14, 1734, and she is described as Margaret Hill in the decrees of 1738 and 1755, above mentioned. I cannot identify this James Hill and I find no record of any children of this marriage.

Mary, b. Feb. 20, 1705, is also described as a spinster in her bond to refund, also dated March 26, 1731 (Peter Faneuil, merchant, and Ruffus Green, Goldsmith, sureties.) She is described as Mary Holmes in the decrees of 1738 and 1755 above mentioned. I think she was deceased before 1738, probably before 1734. By deed dated March 25, 1734, William Franklin and Marmaduke Holmes, both of Boston, mortgaged to John Dolbeare of Boston, brazier, their interest in a parcel in Cold Lane, Boston, belonging to the estate of Henry Franklyn of Boston, aforesaid merchant, "their late brother." (Suffolk Deeds, Book 48, p. 189.) A Marmaduke Holmes married Mary Foster, Nov. 13, 1736. (Boston Record.) So it may be inferred that Mary Franklin married Marmaduke Holmes, sometime after March 26, 1731 and sometime before March 25, 1734 and had probably died before the latter date. No record of children.

William, b. Sept. 15, 1708, filed a bond to refund dated June 26, 1731 (Gilliam Phillips, Esq. and Peter Faneuil, merchant, sureties) and was a party to the above deed dated March 25, 1734. He was deceased by Nov. 1, 1755. No record of wife or children.

Mrs. Margaret Franklin (Margaret Devie) lived in lodgings in Hanover Street in 1722 and was hard put to it to pay her rent. This excerpt from a letter from Sewall to Gurdon Saltonstall, dated March 6, 1720-21, is of genealogical interest:

I have been lately with Madam Franklin, my Tenant, who is more than twenty pounds in arrears. She tells me she has dependence on money to be received from New London, by the order of her brother Sir John Davie. If your Honor be empowered to furnish it, as twould be a relief to her, who seems industrious so twould pleasure me in these hard times, and lay me under further obligation, and free me from the temptation of doing anything that might be accounted harsh, toward a gentlewoman in a widowed condition.

Other connecting links are found in the administration of William Davie, supra. His administrator's account shows that he sold a diamond ring to Margaret Franklin for £25, paid an account due Mrs. Margaret Hill (formerly Franklin) and also paid William Franklin a small sum of money.

Humphrey Davie, the Brazier

I find no record of the birth of Humphrey Davie, son of Humphrey and Sarah. He has been confused with Humphrey, son of Humphrey and Mary, b. 1673, but the evidence is conclusive that Sarah had a son, Humphrey, and at least persuasive that he was the father of Elizabeth Davie, who married James Butler. I think he was older than his brother William, b. June 27, 1686, because he is always mentioned first in deeds, etc. I place his birth, therefore, in 1684 or 1685 (the marriage settlement between Humphrey and Sarah was dated Dec. 14, 1683.)

Upon the petition of Humphrey Davy, Esqr. and Mrs. Sarah Davey, the General Court of Connecticut on Oct. 13, 1687 granted them 400 acres of land. The petition recites:

That your suppliants being by the providence of God come to settle and abide here, under the wings of this Government (which the Lord continue) One of them being borne and bredd heere and having not a foot of land to bestow upon 2 sons, God hath given them since they came together, all the land of Mr. James Richards deceased being otherwise bequeathed and disposed of, for their encouragement in their proceedings herein do pray your favor.

On Aug. 13, 1714 the General Assembly entered the following order:

Whereas the General Assembly held at Hartford, October 13th, 1687, granted Humphrey Davy, Esqr., and Mrs. Sarah Davy, deceased, four hundred acres of land, and appointed Mr. James Steel and Capt. Cyprian Nichols, a committee to lay out the same, which said Committee have omitted to do. This Assembly upon motion of Mr. Humphrey Davy, only* child surviving of the said Humphrey and Sarah Davy, that the said four hundred acres may be laid out to him, do order and appoint any one of the county surveyors to lay out the said four hundred acres of land to the said Humphrey Davy provided he take it up where it may not prejudice any former grant to any plantation or particular person.

In the footnote cited below it is stated that this grant was laid March 1716 at a place called Quintussett eastward of Woodstock for Humphrey by whom it was conveyed to John Alford of Boston and by him to Richard Bill in 1717.

On May 25, 1706 Sarah Davie (heretofore Sarah Richards), relict widow of Humphrey Davie, sometime of Boston, Esq'r. dec'd, conveyed the house on Tremont Street to trustees for herself for life and at her death to "her two sons Humphrey Davie and William Davie." Later, on Oct. 23, 1710, Jonathan Tyng, Esq. and Sarah, his wife in consideration of love, etc. for "her two sons Humphrey Davie and William Davie," released her claim to them, and they on Jan. 10, 1710-11, describing themselves as Humphrey Davie, Brazier, and William Davie, Gent. sold to Andrew Faneuil the mansion house and grounds of "their late father Humphrey Davie, Esq. of Boston, Dec'd."

Humphrey Davie, the Brazier, married Margaret Gedney of Salem April 22, 1714. (Salem Records.) Margaret, b. June 8, 1694, was daughter of William and Hannah (Gardner) Gedney.† The only child of Humphrey and Margaret, Elizabeth, b. March 6, 1715-6, was married May 17, 1739 to James, son of James and Abigail (Eustis) Butler of Boston (b. Dec. 4, 1713), and died Feb. 15, 1739, in giving birth to her son James who married May 18, 1763 Mary, daughter of Anthony and Mary (Waters) Sig-

* The word "only" is bothersome. Humphrey's brother William was still alive.

† Sewall has an item under Dec. 17, 1718: "Went to the Funeral of Mr. Sheriff Gedney's Daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, 24 years old, has left a little daughter." In a footnote there is a surmise that this daughter was born a year later than Margaret, born in 1694, but my guess is that there was no Elizabeth at all. Mr. Waters does not record an Elizabeth and his list of Sheriff Gedney's children makes it unlikely that there was room for another daughter. I think, therefore, that the funeral attended was that of Margaret.

ourney. The last-mentioned James Butler went to Oxford, Mass. His descendants are numerous. Many are listed in James Davie Butler, Butleriana, and Daniels, History of Oxford. See Henry F. Waters, "The Gedney and Clarke Families of Salem, Mass.," Historical Collections of the Essex Institute, Vol. XVI, p. 241, et seq.

John Walley of Boston was appointed administrator of Humphrey Davie, late of said Boston, Brazier, Dec. 29, 1718.

The will of William Gedney of Salem, dated Nov. 26, 1729, mentions among others "my granddaughter Elizabeth Davie." On Feb. 5, 1729-30, Bartholomew Gedney of Boston was appointed guardian of Elizabeth Davie, a minor of about 14 years of age, "Daughter of Humphrey Davie, late of Boston." On Nov. 25, 1740, James Butler of Boston, Goldsmith, administrator of the estate of his wife Elizabeth, deceased, conveyed to Bartholomew Gedney of Boston, shopkeeper, the late mansion house of William Gedney, Esq., situate in Salem "devised to the said Elizabeth by the said William Gedney." Essex Probate Records, Book 316, Page 232; Book 317, Page 45; Essex Deeds, Book 81, Page 1171.

The will of William Gedney contains the following gift: "all the particulars that I bought for her mother now in my possession, Mr. Stanford's bond and her mother's cloaths shall be delivered to Elizabeth Davie with her father's things, goods, Linen, Books . . .," from which the inference is plain that the testator's daughter Margaret (Gedney) Davie was dead on Nov. 26, 1729.

The James Butler who married Elizabeth Davie was known as a Goldsmith. He became a member of the Ancient & Honorable Artillery Company in 1739, was 4th Sergeant in 1743, and was Captain in the Militia. He was married to Sarah Wakefield on Nov. 29, 1744 (Boston Records). She was the daughter of John Wakefield, mariner, and Sarah, his wife. On March 12, 1750, James Butler of Boston, Goldsmith, and Sarah, his wife, appointed Thomas Jackson of said Boston Junior, Distiller, Attorney, and the latter on July 29, 1751, conveyed to Harrison Gray of Boston a dwelling house in Middle (Hanover) Street "as attorney for James Butler, late of said Boston, Goldsmith, and Sarah, his wife, but now of Halifax in the Province of Nova Scotia." James apparently stayed in Halifax for some years. By deed dated June 16, 1761, acknowledged in Halifax July 1, 1761, in which he describes himself as "formerly of Boston in New England, now of Halifax in the Province of Nova Scotia, Goldsmith," he conveyed to James Butler, Jr. of Boston, felt-maker [his son] his right, title and interest in property "which was late the estate of my deceased wife" including a pew "originally set off to William Gidney, Esq." James Butler, Junior, of Boston, Feltmaker, conveyed the pew to Jonathan Gardner of Salem and part of the other property to Richard Derby by a deed in which he describes himself as Hatter and recites "the consent of Mary, my wife." (Essex Deeds.)

James Butler, Goldsmith, appears to have returned to New England and to have lived in Sutton in 1768 and later. He seems to have been a Loyalist and may have been the James Butler who was among the Loyalists who went to Halifax in 1776 but I doubt it. Roberts states that he died in Boston in 1776, aged 63 years, and was buried in the Granary Burial Ground. See James Davie Butler, Butleriana, p. 32 et seq.; Roberts, op. cit., Memorial History of Boston, 3:176.

MORE LIGHT ON LAWRENCE OF ST. JAMES, SOUTHELMHAM, CO. SUFFOLK

By S. ALLYN PECK, B.A., M.S., of Watch Hill, R. I.

There are some grounds for believing that Mr. Schuyler Lawrence in his compilation of the maternal ancestry of Anne Peck, second wife of Captain John Mason (American Genealogist, vol. 23, p. 83) has been led astray as to the identity of her mother's brothers. She was Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck. In the course of his valiant attempt to make a pedigree of several generations of this Lawrence family, rendered difficult by the absence of wills at crucial points, he has inadvertently scrambled the brothers and sisters of two generations.

According to their pedigree in the Tanner MS., at the Bodleian Library, Oxford, Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck was a sister of Sarah Lawrence and Samuel Lawrence, the latter of Syleham, co. Suffolk, and they were the children of John Lawrence of St. James Park, Southelmham, by a daughter of William Herne of "Tibnamlongrove," co. Norfolk, and the grandchildren of another John Lawrence. Admittedly there is room for trouble in the proper chronology of generations in a family when there is an immediate succession of members with the same given name. After those mentioned in the Tanner MS., more were to follow.

For the Visitation of Norfolk, 1664, (Norfolk Rec. Soc. vol. 4, p. 118), John Lawrence, of Wrampingham, furnished the herald only with such information as to his forebears that he was a son of John Lawrence, of Syleham, co. Suffolk, and that his grandfather was John Lawrence of St. James Park, co. Suffolk. It is to be observed at once that Tanner mentions no John Lawrence of Syleham, but he does mention the latter's father, John Lawrence of St. James Park. These two pedigrees can be fitted together without any incongruity by making the father of John and Lawrence of Wramplingham the brother of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck and Samuel Lawrence of Syleham.

Instead of matching the two pedigrees together in this manner, Mr. Schuyler Lawrence placed John of Wramplingham as brother rather than as their nephew. Unfortunately the editor of the Norfolk Visitation cited took it upon himself to add, which is not in the original Visitation pedigree by his own acknowledgment through the use of italics, that the mother of John Lawrence of Wramplingham was a daughter of Wm. Herne of Tibenham, and of course he meant the same one as mentioned otherwise in the Tanner MS. The accuracy of this editorial addition is doubtful. However it apparently led Mr. Schuyler Lawrence to set forth John of Wramplingham as the brother of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck, whereas he was probably her nephew.

There are certain dates regarding these Lawrences available in print which render any other relationship than aunt and nephew unlikely. The marriages of Fressingfield, co. Suffolk (Phillimore's Suff. Marr. vol. 4, p. 6), include the following pertinent ones:

- 29 Apr. 1583 Roberte Grynlinge & Grace d. John Lawrence, gent.
- 3 Oct. 1585 John Dowsynge & Martha Lawrence.
- 25 Apr. 1587 Christopher Eacharde & Anne d. John Lawrence, gent.

The alliance in the last entry is given in the Tanner MS., and so there is no doubt that it relates to the family under consideration. And it is an established fact that both the father and grandfather of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck removed to Fressingfield from St. James, Southelmham, yet there is no evidence apart from Mr. Schuyler Lawrence's assumption that either ever resided at Syleham. Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Eachard was an aunt of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck, and presumably we have two others in Grace and Martha who have been previously unnoticed. The years of these marriages make the point to be stressed. Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck's husband, Rev. Robert Peck, was born in 1580, and their first child was baptized 23 July 1607 (Hingham, co. Norf., Par. Reg.). Therefore she was married about the year 1606. This conforms to approximately a twenty-year interval between the marriage years of a former generation and her own. John Lawrence of Wramplingham had two daughters who married for the first time respectively in 1666 and 1670. Hence there was a sixty-year gap between their first marriages and that of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck. Here obviously is room for more than one generation. They certainly would appear thus to be grandnieces rather than nieces. Even then we are allowing a liberal interval of thirty years between the first marriages of different generations. Mrs. Anne (Peck)

Mason married in 1639, but she was the youngest child of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck. And it was probably in the sixteen-thirties that John Lawrence of Wrampingham married in view of the years his daughters married in. This would place him as a nephew also as well as the year of his death—1685. Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck died in 1648, at which time she was about 65. Granting him a long life of 75 years, he would still have been born after many of her children were. This naturally doesn't rule out the possibility of his having been her brother but it does leave it open to some question.

The Able Men of Suffolk 1638 (Anglo-American Rec. Foundation) lists under Syleham, John Lawrence son of Samuel Lawrence Sr. Generally the able men did not have their paternity mentioned, and evidently it was given in this instance to distinguish him from another John Lawrence in the community. The other one would, according to his own pedigree, have been John Lawrence, later of Wrampingham, son of John of Syleham. Presumably John son of John, and John son of Samuel, were contemporaries, requiring distinction, and so the former was presumably a nephew of Samuel, who appears in the Tanner MS. as a brother of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck.

Other pieces of information tend to complete the picture of the family group as we are drawing it. On 5 May 1630, Samuel Lawrence, gent., married Lydia Fuller, gent., at Syleham (Philimore's Suff. Marr. vol. 3, p. 58). From the year of his marriage, 24 years after that of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck, one would conclude he was her nephew, and a cousin of her daughter Mrs. Anne (Peck) Mason. In his will, dated 7 Feb. 1664/5 (Norwich Consistory Court 1665, fol. 127), he designates Mrs. Mason and two of her brothers as cousins. And it is evident that he uses the word cousin in the sense we do, and applies the words, kinsman and kinswoman, for nephews and nieces. Interesting to note, he mentions his late uncle Nathaniel Lawrence. No Nathaniel occurs in the Tanner MS. In the will of John Lawrence of Fressingfield, proved 11 Jan. 1610/1, occurs a son Nathaniel. The editor of the Norfolk Visitation places him as an uncle of John of Wrampingham. If so, then John was of the same generation as Samuel of Syleham (will 1665), and the same as the latter's cousin Mrs. Anne (Peck) Mason. This Samuel was possibly not a brother of John as he mentions neither him nor his children. The following extracts which I made some years ago from a copy of the parish register of St. James Southelmham, at the Ipswich Public Library, Ipswich, England, are relevant to the grandparents of Mrs. Anne (Lawrence) Peck and their children.

JOHN³, 2, 1 HUBBARD FAMILY OF BROOKLYN, CONNECTICUT

By MYRTLE M. JILLSON, of Waterbury, Conn.*

Inasmuch as descendants of John Hubbard, 3d, of Pomfret and Brooklyn, Conn., are scantily recorded in Connecticut records, these land records are of value in determining the residences of his children and grandchildren.

Bowen's History of Woodstock, Conn., 7:125-6, gives the early generations of this family, as does One Thousand Years of Hubbard History, Day, 1895, pp. 74-5.

1. JOHN³ HUBBARD (*John*², *John*¹), born in Pomfret, Conn., Nov. 15, 1712; died between Sept. 26, 1783 and June 6, 1786; m. BRIDGET ———, who died after Apr. 1, 1796.

John Hubbard resided in that part of Pomfret incorporated May 1786 as Brooklyn. His wife was admitted to the Brooklyn church, Oct. 20, 1776. The following abstracts are taken from the Brooklyn, Conn., Land Records, Brooklyn, Conn.:

2. JONAS⁴ HUBBARD (*John*³, *John*², *John*¹), born in Pomfret, Conn., May 30, 1743; d. before 1792 (when brother William Hubbard's estate was settled); married Pomfret, Conn., Jan. 10, 1768, LYDIA [MARY, in Brooklyn ch. rec.] BROWN, whose parentage has not been determined.

Weaver's Burnham Manuscript in the Connecticut Historical Society, Hartford, Conn., states that the third wife of John Burnham, Revolutionary soldier, was Bridget Hubbard, daughter of a Yale Professor and "own cousin." The manuscript did not name her parents, but evidence below denotes that she was a daughter of Jonas Hubbard, and a search by the author of records in the Yale University Library, New Haven, Conn., failed to find a shred of evidence denoting that Jonas Hubbard had been connected with Yale University in any capacity whatever. Also, search thus far has failed to prove relationship between Bridget Hubbard and her husband, John Burnham, unless it stems from the Brown family, untraced to date.

His marriage and son Daniel's birth on the Pomfret vital records are the first records we find of Jonas Hubbard, and while no birth or baptism records of the other children appear on the Connecticut records, we do find that on May 16, 1792, Captain William Smith of Brooklyn was appointed guardian to Mary Hubbard, aged about 9 years, Lucy Hubbard, aged about 13 years, Phebe Hubbard, aged about 8 years, and Bridget Hubbard, aged about 15 years.

In 1786, Jonas Hubbard inherited land from his father in Charlton, and, while the vital records of Charlton, Mass., fail to give any record of this family, the land records might disclose the fact that he lived there until his death, as no probate record for him appears in the Connecticut probate records.

On January 17, 1850, in a Revolutionary War pension record, Bridget [Hubbard] Burnham, widow of John Burnham, states: "I shall be 73 years old, the 19th day of this present month." However, she did not state the names of her parents. She married John Burnham on September 24, 1797, at which time her name was Bridget Hubbard. She lived then in the home of Mr.

and Mrs. Hammond in Hampton, Windham County, Connecticut, and went with John Burnham to be married at the house of 'Elder Abel Palmer,' a Baptist Minister who resided in Hampton. In 1850 Bridget Burnham lived in the home of her son, Alba Burnham, of Troy, Bradford County, Pennsylvania.

Hence, with the above evidence and from the Brooklyn Land Record, abstracted below, we are able to furnish the family of Jonas Hubbard.

Brooklyn Land Records, v. 3: 452: Oct. 3, 1804, Danll Hubbard of Wells, Rutland Co., Vt. . . . to John Ashcraft of Brooklyn "all the Right Title or Interest I have, or ought to have in the real Estate of my late uncle Jeduthan Hubbard late of Brooklyn deceased, which is one sixth part of the undivided share which was set to heirs of Jonas Hubbard decd out of estate of my said uncle Jeduthan Hubbard" witnesses, Simon Francis, Samuel Hyde. v. 3: 454: Oct. 1, 1804, We John Burnham and Bridget his wife of Hampton in the County of Windham, James Gallt and Lucy his wife of Hardwick in the County of Otsego, State of New York and Molly and Phebe Hubbard of Brooklyn in sd County of Windham for one hundred and forty-six dollars to John Ashcraft of said Brooklyn "one certain tract of land lying in said Brooklyn containing about Ten Acres be the same more or less bounded as follows. On the North on Land belonging to Joseph Scarborough on the East on Land belonging to Abel Prince on the South on Land belonging to said Prince on the west on Land belonging to Jerusha Miles" witnesses, James Eldredge, Ebenezer Hubbard, John M. Hughes, Richd Edwards, Anne Burrows, Job Phillips. v. 4: 209: Apr. 23, 1807, John and Bridget Burnham of Hampton and Freeborn Young of Killingly [signed also by Mary Young] to John Ashcraft of Brooklyn "all interest in land at Brooklyn bounded Westerly on Highway leading from Ashcraft's house to Philemon Adams Southerly on land set out to Abigail Adams and Northerly on land set to widow Jerusha Miles all interest in dower of widow Bridget Hubbard in estate of late husband John Hubbard decd" v. 3: 630: Jan. 8, 1810, Jonathan Holmes, Nathaniel Holmes, Gardner Cleveland, Mary Cleveland, Jonas Hubbard, Matilda Hubbard and Lovell Plank all of New York and Heirs to Estate of Nathaniel Holmes Late of Brooklyn appointed Jessaniah Holmes of Litchfield, Herkimer Co., N. THE WASSONS OF MAINE

A PENSION RECORD STUDY

By WALTER LEE SHEPPARD, Jr., M.S., of Philadelphia, Pa.

The pension records of the Revolutionary War list three claimants of the name of Wasson at Brooksville, Hancock Co., Mass. (now Maine). These three appear in the 1790 census of that town:*

	Males 16 and over	Males under 16	Females
John Wasson	1	2	2
Thomas Wasson	1	0	1
Samuel Wasson	1	2	5

The file on John provides the following information. Under date of 15 July 1815 he applied for pension. On 7 July 1838, his wife, Eunice, is aged 85. She states that she and John were married at Nelson, N. H., by Rev. Jacob Foster in Oct. 1782. John died at Brooksville 20 Mar. 1846. Mary Wasson testified 21 Oct. 1847, aged 75, that Eunice and John had a daughter, Eunice, born Mar. 1792, and children Rebecca and John born later. Mary Dodge testifies that the daughter Rebecca was born April 1794.

The file on Samuel yields the following. He applied for pension 22 Aug. 1832, aged 72. He volunteered at Shirley, Mass., where he then lived (Jan. 1776). He also served in 1781 from Groton, Mass. John Wasson's and Samuel Wasson's certificates are also attached. Samuel was born at Amherst, N. H., in 1760. His father kept a family Bible record now in the possession of his (Samuel's) brother Thomas at Brooksville. John Wasson under date of 22 Aug. 1832 states that Samuel is his brother. On the same date Thomas makes a similar statement.

However, it is from Thomas's file that we obtain the most light on the family. He applied 15 July 1819 saying that he enlisted at Worcester, Mass. On 6 Feb. 1844, Mary, widow of Thomas Wasson, applied again, saying that she married Thomas 16 Dec. 1788. He died 29 Dec. 1840. Her maiden name was Carter. Copy of their marriage record is attached showing that Mary Carter and Thomas Wasson were married on the date given at Pennobscot. Also attached is the following record from the Carter family Bible:

Edward Carter born 23 April 1743
 Esther Carter born 20 December 1746
 Edward Carter born 17 December 1765 died
 Esther Carter born 8 November 1766
 Caty Carter born 8 July 1768
 Isaac Carter born 27 April 1770
 Mary Carter born 22 February 1772
 Betty K Carter born 30 September 1773
 Edward Carter Jr. born 8 August 1775
 Thomas Carter born 13 July 1777
 Susanna Carter born 12 October 1779
 Jonathan Carter born 24 March 1782
 John Carter born 21 December 1784

Also attached is the following family Bible record of the Wassons:*

John Wasson was born 10 December 1723 died 8 October 1786
 Martha Wasson was born 12 January 1722 died 6 July 1795

 Elizabeth Wasson born 19 October 1757
 Samuel Wasson born 12 January 1760
 Thomas Wasson born 8 February 1763

* Family record is most of it in the handwriting of Thomas Wasson. No. 9 below.

Mary Burnam (or Burnham?) of Blue hill died 24 April 1820

Mary (widow) Wasson was still alive in 1855 when on 10 Oct. she applied for bounty land.

From the above we construct the following.

1. JOHN WASSON, born 10 Dec. 1723, died 8 Oct. 1786, married MARTHA ———, born 12 Jan. 1722, died 6 July 1795, lived at Amherst, N. H., and probably at Shirley, Mass. Had:

8. SAMUEL WASSON, alive 22 Aug. 1832, aged 72. Lived at Shirley, Mass., 1776, and at Groton, Mass., 1781. No mention of wife or children, though from the 1790 census it appears that he had a family.

9. THOMAS WASSON, died 29 Dec. 1840, married 16 Dec. 1788, MARY CARTER, daughter of Edward and Esther (Powers) Carter born 22 Feb. 1772, at Hollis, N. H. (See family Bible of Carter family.) She was still alive 10 Oct. 1855. He was living at Shirley, Mass., 20 Mar. 1783 (NEHGR, vol. 69, p. 295).

Just where the Shepardson children fit into the family is not clear from the pension records.

Communicated by SCHUYLER LAWRENCE of Wysox, Pa.

Many efforts¹ have been made to locate the English ancestors of John Page, the immigrant at Watertown, Mass., after 1630.

It seems probable that he was from Suffolk (or possibly Essex). The origin of Robert Page, immigrant 1637 to Hampton, N. H., has been traced to Norfolk.² The surname is very widespread throughout East Anglia. There appears to be a possibility that they may stem from a family of that name anciently located at Walsham le Willows, co. Suff. (hereafter shortened to Walsham).

The manorial Court Rolls of Walsham dating from 1316 have been recently³ secured for the Ipswich Public Library through the interest of Dr. C. H. W. Page, Hon. Secretary of the Norfolk Record Society. The earliest Page entry refers to John Page, a stone mason in the XIVth Century, possibly one of the builders of the Walsham Church.⁴ The Parish Register has been abstracted by Dr. Page: Marriage entries therefrom for 1539-1690 have been published in the Boston Transcript (7 Oct. 1937), together with a brief outline of the armigerous Pages of Walsham, which line terminated in an heiress Elizabeth (1671-1740), wife of John Sparke, Gent., and daughter of Thomas Page, Esq. (1640-1701) whose arms were a chevron between three doves.

An extensive family of Pages in Norfolk and Suffolk may well be a cadet of the armigerous Pages. It is briefly set forth here for the first time.⁴ There were a number of emigrants from this line to the Americas, notably Thomas Page, who settled in Bradford County, Penn., and whose descendants are numerous and wide-spread over Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

NELL ALEXANDER OF KILLINGLY, CONN.

By KENDALL P. HAYWARD, Esq., of Hartford, Conn.

The historian John Warner Barber in his Connecticut Historical Collections, of facts and traditions, published in 1836, relates the story of Nell Alexander of Killingly, Conn., who, on his passage to Boston from Scotland, found a gold ring which he pawned; and from the proceeds of his first purchases acquired a sizable amount of property in Killingly, Conn. The body of water is still known as Alexander Lake.

Barber in his Collections, pages 430 and 431, has this to say of the ring: "The gold ring was transmitted as a sort of talisman, to his only son Nell, who transferred it to his only son Nell; who is now living at an advanced age, and has already placed it in the hands of his grandson Nell; and so it will doubtless continue from Nell to Nell, agreeably to the request of the first Nell, until the 'last knell of the race is tolled!'"

This tradition has been repeated in the W. P. A. project called Connecticut—a Guide to its Roads, Lore, and People, printed in 1938, with some slight variation.

The above tradition is not precisely true from the genealogist's point of view.

In the old cemetery near Alexander Lake, are the following gravestones:

Nell Alexander died April 25, 1774 in his 54th year.

Mrs. Prudence wife of Nell Alexander died March 12, 1812 in the 94th year of her age.

If these dates are correct, it would place the date of birth of the second Nell Alexander about 1720. From the Medway, Mass., Vital Records we see Naiell Alexander married Susannah Adams, April 17, 1721. Susannah Adams was born at Medway, Mass., July 30, 1697, daughter of John Adams (3) and his second wife, Susannah Breck. From the Killingly 1st church records of admissions for Feb. 20, 1722, is the name of Susannah Alexander from Medway. It is apparent that Nell Alexander, junior, was not the son of Nell Alexander, senior, unless his age was overstated at death. This argument is substantiated by the will of Nell Alexander, Senior, who died in Killingly, Conn., Oct. 4, 1738.

Windham Probate Records, Vol. 2, page 218. Nell Alexander of Killingly, will 2 Sept. 1738, proved 10 Nov. 1738. Wife Susannah to have one half of his estate, which at her decease would "go into the Scotch box at Boston." The other half of the estate was to go to "Nell Alexander ye young man now dwelling with me." He is referred to twice in the will as "the young man now dwelling with me," and never as "my son Nell."

Perhaps the Nell Alexander jr. was an adopted close relative, or then again he may have been a stranger and never adopted.

Early Rehoboth. Documented Historical Studies of Families and Events in This Plymouth Colony Township. By Richard LeBaron Bowen. Vol. II, Rehoboth, Mass., 1946. 177 pp., fully indexed. Price, $5.00; order from author. Rehoboth is fortunate in its historian and this volume lives up to the promise of the first. It contains chapters on the names Seekonk and Rehoboth and the noted counterfeiting case, with genealogical data on the Beatties, Bishop, Campe, Carpenter, French, Hunt, Lyon, Noble, Peck, Pullen, Smith, and Stevens families. Of special value to the genealogist are the King Philip's War lists, the records of earmarks, and the warning out notices.

Observations on the Le Stranges. By C. L'Estrange Ewen. Pamphlet, 8 pp.; price, 1s. 3d. net; order from author, 31, Marine Drive, Paignton, Devon. This study corrects errors in previous accounts of this important medieval family, which got tangled up with too many Johns in the thirteenth century.

NOTES

Susannah Jones and Benjamin Gillam

In THE AMERICAN GENEALOGIST, vol. 14, pp. 46-57, 162-172, the undersigned told the amazing story of Susannah Jones and her husband, Nathaniel Wilson. A couple of items have since come to light by accident. Hartford County Court records (7:27) tell of the return of Nathaniel Wilson (whether the real man or an impostor will never be known) in 1707. He stated that in June 1702 he was at Boston with his brothers-in-law Joseph Rowlandson of Wethersfield and David Jesse of Boston, that they got him drunk and aboard a vessel to Virginia, and that he was sold as a servant for several years. Joseph Rowlandson was arrested and gave bond. Probably more can be found about the story in later records of the County and Superior Courts.

The same source (6:250) shows that on 5 Sept. 1704 Susannah Wilson of Hartford, "Widdow, Relict of Nathanaell Wilson late of Hartford dec^d," charged Carterett Gillam, mariner, with being the father of a child, the connection occurring in August 1703. That would place the birth of the child (if born nine months later) about May 1704, which confirms my guess that Benjamin Gillam was born "perhaps 1704-5." Carteret Gillam denied the charge, but the Court found him to be the "reputed father." Carteret Gillam was listed with a family at Southold, Long Island, in the 1698 census. This record, with those given in the above-mentioned article, thus gives the Gillam family of Durham, Conn., a proved descent from Gov. William Jones and Gov. Theophilus Eaton.

Judson Addendum

Daniel Judson (No. 35, Vol. 22, pp. 61-62) married Abigail Warner, born at Waterbury, 10 Feb. 1710/11, daughter of Daniel and Joanna (Richason) Warner.

—D. L. J.

Sackett of New Jersey and Pennsylvania

Page 30 of The Sacketts of America (1907), by Charles H. Weygant, gives the children of SIMON³ SACKETT (no. 22) and MARY (McGAW) as

82. Thomas who m. Sarah Haywood.

83. a daughter.

84. a daughter.

Where this information originated is not apparent. The will of Simon, dated Jan 1717, at Hopewell, N. J., proved 17 Mar 1717, names wife Mary, son Joseph, "child my wife now goeth withall" if it be a son to share evenly with Joseph, if a daughter, Joseph to pay her £50 when 21. If either die before coming of age, the survivor to possess all that the other is to get, if both die before coming of age, "my brothers and sisters" to have all, equally divided except that the "children of my sister Elizabeth" shall have between them one portion.

From this it is apparent that Simon had only two surviving children at most. There is no earlier indication of a daughter. Further, we find a Simon Sackett at Bristol, Pa., in 1741, who might well be the posthumous child born in 1717. The following list of children replaces the undiscovered Thomas and unknown daughters.

82. JOSEPH SACKETT, b. ab. 22 Jan. 1716, removed from Hopewell to Wrightstown, Bucks Co., Pa. He voted at Trenton in 1738, purchased 280 acres at Wrightstown from John Hillborn in December 1740, and further purchased in 1757 from Robert Cummings, in 1760 from the estate of John Johnson. Purchased land on the north side of the Neshaminy in 1762. In 1769, with others donated land for the establishment of the Presbyterian Church of Newtown, where he was one of the first Trustees of this church. He was a member of the Revolutionary War Committee of Safety for Wrightstown Township. Was a Justice of the Peace from 1777 for many years. He married Sarah, born 26 Aug. 1726, died 11 Sept. 1796, aged 70 years, 1 month 16 days, daughter of Garrett³ Vansant (Garret², Stoffel¹) of Wrightstown. Joseph died 1 Mar. 1798 leaving a will dated 21 Oct. 1793, naming all his known children except the second. His children were Simon, moved away, never returned to share estate, whereabouts unknown to his father when the will was made.

James or Joseph, d. 17 Mar. 1781.

Clanche or Clauche, m. Simon Bennett.

Elizabeth, m. 1784 Joshua Dungan, son of Jeremiah.

Patience, m. John Kinsey.

Rebecca, b. 6 June 1760; m. 13 July 1784, William Wetherill.

Rachel, b. 1 Mar. 1750; m. Joshua Dungan, son of Joseph.

Sarah, d. unm.

Joseph, m. Eleanor Larue.

83. A posthumous child, probably SIMON, b. 1717, m. at Bristol, Pa., 1741, Mary Walhill, also of Bristol. He died in 1747

Porter-Early

The Boston printed records contain the intention of marriage of Edward Porter and Abial Arnold on 8 January 1695/6. The following records prove that the editors misread Arnold for Early. On 8 April 1696 Abial Early was summoned for fornication, being delivered of a child at the house of Mr. Edward Gouge, and Mrs. Deliverance Wakefield and Margaret Davie were summoned as witnesses. On 15 June 1696 Edward Porter and John Pitts of Boston, butchers, gave bond for the appearance of Abial Early alias Porter (Suff. Sup. Jud. Ct. Files No. 4337). Edward and Abial (Early) Porter had the following children all born in Boston: Edward and Abigail, 5 Dec. 1696 (Edward died 7 Dec. and Abigail 13 Dec. 1696); Abigail 9 March 1698/9; Mary, 2 Oct. 1700; Sarah, 11 Jan. 1701/2; Joseph, 22 Oct. 1703; Hannah, 4 Sept. 1705 (married Benjamin Bodge of Charlestown and Boston on 25 Aug. 1725); Abial, 15 Nov. 1708; Susanna, 22 Sept. 1710; Elizabeth, 11 April 1712.

Abial Early, wife of Edward Porter, was born at Salem on 1: 7 mo.: 1671, the daughter of George Early (also spelt Yardly) by his wife Abigail, daughter of Pasco Foote of Salem and Manchester, Mass., whom he married on 15: 8 mo.: 1670. Abigail (Foote) Early was bapt. at Salem on 6 Feb. 1652/3.

Palgrave Correction

In my article upon Dr. Richard Palgrave in THE AMERICAN GENEALOGIST for April 1942 I stated that his son, John, died s. p. This is not correct. He had issue a daughter Arabella, who died young on 9 Sept. 1661, after her mother Mary (Maverick) had remarried Francis Hooke of Kittery (cf. New Eng. Hist. Gen. Reg. Vol. XVII, p. 330; Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages and Deaths 1630-1699, p. 80). As this daughter died in infancy, no great harm is done, however.

The Jepson Family

An article entitled Additions and Corrections to the Jepson Genealogy, compiled by the present writer, appeared in THE AMERICAN GENEALOGIST, vol. 20, pp. 85-97 and 173-180. In this article, on pp. 177-8, the statement was made that the second wife of Thomas² Jepson, Elizabeth (Gridley) (Blower or Blore) Talbot, was a daughter of Joseph Gridley of Boston, "either by his second wife, Lydia (——) Flood or Floyd; or by his third wife, Elizabeth (Emmons) Hinckman." "If Elizabeth was the daughter of Joseph Gridley by his second marriage, then she was born at Boston 5 December 1665 . . ."

Mr. H. Minot Pitman, in an article called Descendants of John Blower of Boston, which appeared in THE AMERICAN GENEALOGIST, vol. 21, pp. 238-243, shows, on p. 241, that Elizabeth Gridley was certainly the daughter of Joseph Gridley by his second wife, Lydia (——) Flood or Floyd; and not by the third wife; and that she was indeed born at Boston 5 December 1665.

The family of James and Emm³ (Jepson) Sands of Ipswich, Mass., appears on p. 179 of the Additions and Corrections to the Jepson Genealogy, and the observation is made there that "Very little seems to be known about the Sands family of Ipswich." Genealogy & History for 15 September 1941 contains a query (item 3932), signed RS (Calif.), which shows that Hannah Sands, one of the daughters of James and Emm³ (Jepson) Sands, married in 1738 John Carter of Scarborough, York Co. (now Maine); and that they had issue (surname Carter): 1. John (b. ca. 1739); 2. James (1740-1810); 3. Ephraim (1742-1826); 4. Thomas (b. ca. 1744); 5. Henry (b. 1746); 6. Johanna (b. 1749); 7. Hannah (b. 1751); 8. Abigail (b. 1754). Ephraim Carter is stated to have served in the Navy in the Revolutionary War.

The Family of George Walker of Philadelphia, Pa.

An article with the foregoing title, compiled by the present writer, appeared in THE AMERICAN GENEALOGIST, vol. 20, pp. 33-43. Some additional information has come to light since the publication of this article, and it is desirable that this should be printed. All this additional data concerns the individuals who appear on pp. 42 and 43 of this article, and who were the great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren of George¹ Walker, the founder of this family in Pennsylvania.

i. GEORGE⁴ WALKER (Joseph³, Joseph², George¹), b. 23 Jan. 1723/4. He was a witness to the will of Susanna Edwards of New Britain, Bucks Co., Pa., widow, dated 22 Aug. 1758 (Bucks Co. Wills, Book 3, p. 34). His house lot in Middletown, Bucks Co., was mentioned in the will of Euclides Longshore of Middletown, dated 8 Nov. 1760 (Bucks Co. Wills, Book 3, p. 111). Mary Palmer was b. in Lower Makefield 14 March 1725/6, and recorded in Middletown M.M. George⁴ and Mary (Palmer) Walker had at least 1 son, John, b. 29 Nov. 1757 (rec. at Middletown), and they may also have been parents of a George Walker who d. at Bristol, Pa., 23 July 1834, aged 72 years, leaving a widow Sarah, who d. 16 Feb. 1851, in her 88th. year (Bucks County Intelligencer).

iii. GRACE⁴ WALKER (Joseph³, Joseph², George¹), b. ca. 1728, m. BENJAMIN SCOTT, b. at Middletown, Bucks Co., 29 Nov. 1729, son of Benjamin and Jane (Twining) Scott. His father, Benjamin Scott the elder, d. 27 May 1757. Benjamin Scott Jr. d. between 30 Apr. and 31 July 1764. The will of Benjamin Scott of Southampton, Bucks Co., carpenter, dated 30 Apr. 1764, bequeathed to wife Grace, "the goods &c. she took from me on separating from me, together with money belonging to me in right of her in the hands of the administrators of Joseph Walker, deceased, late of Middletown." ELEANOR COUILLARD, WIFE OF NICHOLAS³ BRAGG

By MRS. JOHN E. BARCLAY, of Whitman, Mass.

Nicholas Bragg (3) was b. June 11, 1732 (Attleboro V.R.); died in Springfield, Vt. Aug. 7, 1804. He was the son of Alexander (2) and Elizabeth (Luther) Bragg; grandson of Henry (1) of Salem. His mother Elizabeth Luther (b. Jan. 1, 1696, Swansea V.R.) was the daughter of Deacon Nathaniel (3) and Ruth (Cole) Luther. (Note: the Cole Genealogy by Ernest Byron Cole, p. 34, states Elizabeth (4) Luther married Alexander Briggs, but this undoubtedly is a misprint; she married Alexander Bragg March 21, 1715 in Swansea).

Providence Records: Nicholas Bragg & Elenor Coolier both of Providence was Lawfully Ioined Together in marriage by me January 15, 1757: Joseph Snow—Pastor of the prisbytearin or Congregational Church of Christ in Providence.

Recorded May ye 23rd: 1759 Iames Angell, Clerk.

The handwriting in these old records is very clear and legible and the name "Coolier" could not be mistaken for anything else. There are many who have thought the name was really Collier but it is simply another case where the Town Clerk didn't know how to spell it but wrote it as it sounded to him. The correct spelling of the name is Couillard, for Eleanor was of Huguenot descent. A wide search of the records has produced the following spellings of the name: Coolier, Cooliard, Couillerd, Couillard, Couilliard, Coliard, Coullard, Couliard.

The parents of Eleanor were John and Isabel (Kilwell ?) Couillard who were married in Ipswich, Mass; lived for a while in Gloucester and removed to Georgetown, Maine, where Eleanor was born and several other children. No record of their death has been found nor from whence they came to Ipswich. However, there is a strong suspicion that Kilwell may be Colwell; the records at Georgetown show they had a grandson by the name of Colwell Lemont Couillard. Further research may reveal John Couillard as a descendent of Guillaume Couillard, one of the founders of Quebec.

Ipswich Marriage records, Vol. 2, p. 113: John Couillard & Isabel Kilwell, both of Chebacco April 23, 1726 (int. also rec.). Chebacco Parish was set off and established as town of Essex in 1819.

Gloucester birth records, Vol. 1, p. 170: Couillard: John s. of John & Ezebel, Nov. —, 1728 (bpt. Nov. 10). Church record, West Parish, Gloucester: Couillard: Mary d. John & Ezebel, Dec. 29, 1726.

Georgetown, Maine, births, Vol. 1, p. 31: Coliard, John & Isabellah:

Joseph, Oct 1730.

*Charles, July 12, 1732.

Eleanor, June 6, 1739.

James, June 1, 1740.

Marriages Vol 2, p 19-22:

Coliard, Charles and Margaret Hood, int. Nov. 12, 1757.

Coliard, James & Mary Meril, Dec. 19, 1765.

" John & Hannah Robbins, int. Feb. 23, 1749-50.

" Mary & John Briant, int. Sept 5, 1744.

Colliard: John & Mary Mock, int. Nov. 30, 1750.

Charles Couillard wrote a letter to Nicholas Bragg, Springfield, State of Vermont, dated Georgetown Oct. 3, 1792, expressing his sympathy because the Braggs had lost their home and all their furniture by fire. He calls them "dear brother and sister."

Eleanor (Couillard) Bragg died in Springfield, Vt., Jan: 14, 1828, at the home of her daughter Eleanor (Bragg Powers) who married Asahel Powers, this fact being mentioned in an old letter dated Feb. 10, 1828, Keesville, N. Y., and written by her granddaughter Eleanor (Powers) Place, wife of Warden Place. These old letters were in possession of the writer's grandfather, Colonel Franklin Powers Harlow, who was a great-grandson of Eleanor (Couillard) Bragg.

GENEALOGICAL BLANK CHARTS FOR COMPLETE ANCESTRY

Many inquiries have been received over the years for genealogical charts, but until now I have never issued or sold them. A perfect form adequate for all contingencies does not exist and I dare say cannot be devised. Some forms have some advantages, others have other advantages; hence different people have their own preferences for various types of charts.

Personally I have always liked the form devised by Mrs. Bentley W. Morse and have sometimes used them for my clients. I have now acquired her electrotype and can offer them for sale. The charts are double-size and with one fold fit standard Trussell loose-leaf binders. Easy to handle, yet six generations are provided for without crowding. The 32 ancestors in the sixth generation can be carried each to a chart of his own, hence a set of 33 charts ($1.50 net) covers the entire ancestry for 11 generations.

I like these charts because they are spacious and provide room for all that is essential without being unwieldy; also because they are simple and contain merely the lines between generations, spaces for writing in the names, and "B.", "M." and "D." for the dates, with enough space to write in the dates and places of each event. But tastes in charts differ, and I can't guarantee you will like this form as well as I do.
